On-the-Spot Picture Shows Rescue of Survivors From Sunken H.M.S. Dorsetshire in Indian Ocean

This graphic picture taken on the spot shows the scene just before hundreds of men from H.M.S. Dorsetshire, one of two British cruisers sunk by enemy action in Indian Ocean, were hauled into rescue boats launched by a destroyer which rushed to the scene of the sinking and fought a gallant fight against time before darkness fell to make further rescue efforts useless. Literally hundreds of men can be seen swimming around in the water or making their way toward the first boat to arrive as the rescue destroyer comes upon the scene. Some of the Dorsetshire's crew were able to escape in the ship's own lifeboats, but many were forced to go overboard and wait for hours until help arrived. The weary, sea-soaked sailors cheered and shouted when they saw the rescuing destroyer steam into view.

U.S. Submarines Sink 8 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The navy announced this afternoon that U.S. submarines operating in the western Pacific had sunk four enemy ships and damaged four others in recent actions. The communiqué listed the ships as follows: Two large freighters, one medium-sized freighter and one small patrol boat, sunk; one large tanker damaged and left afire, and one large freighter, one large transport and one medium-sized cargo ship damaged.

Counterinfiltration

NEW YORK (CP) — The Australian radio today said Commonwealth troops defending Port Moresby are adopting counter-infiltration tactics, attempting to get behind the enemy's lines in an effort to disorganize his attacks. The broadcast was heard here by CBS.

Bundists on Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Twenty-five officials of the German-American Bund, including Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, former national leader, who is a confessed spy, went on trial here today. The defendants are accused of advising Bund members to avoid military service under the U.S. Selective Service Act.

Nazis Say They Cut Stalingrad in Two

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts-AP) — The Berlin radio said tonight that "Stalingrad has ceased to be a solid block of resistance," that the Germans had driven a wedge through the city to the Volga and that parts of Stalingrad were "under complete control" of the attacking forces. The radio broadcast a Trans-ocean agency dispatch reporting that Soviet troops "are now offering fanatical resistance in small and large groups which military quarters in Berlin characterize as suicide."

McNab Commands

LONDON (CP) — Group Capt. Ernest McNab, D.F.C., of Saskatoon, one of the operational pioneers of the R.C.A.F. in the present war, has succeeded Group Capt. Patrick Campbell of Hamilton, Ont., as commanding officer of a Canadian fighter station in the Midlands, the R.C.A.F. announced today.

(Group Capt. McNab early this year served in a staff appointment at Western Air Command headquarters in Victoria and was subsequently R.C.A.F. liaison officer to the U.S. army air service in Seattle.)

Luxembourgers Slain

LONDON (CP) — In a dispatch dated "From the German Frontier," Reuters reported this afternoon that the Germans had announced the execution of the leaders of Luxembourg miners and steel workers who went on general strike last week in protest against Nazi measures.

Willkie at Kuibyshev

KUIBYSHEV (AP) — Wendell Willkie arrived by air today at this branch capital of the USSR.

Governor Tells Troops To Battle On In Madagascar

LONDON (CP) — The Governor-General of Madagascar, who asked Wednesday for terms, has decided to defend the island "to the extreme limit," a French communiqué broadcast by the Vichy radio said today.

The communiqué announcing continued resistance against British columns converging on Tananarive, capital of the island, said the British terms of surrender "appear to be unacceptable to such an extent" that Governor-General Armand Annet would not even consider them.

British columns, closing in since last Thursday dawn from key west coast ports, were reported officially to have pushed more than half the way inland toward the capital.

Wage Bonus May End Nov. 1

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

OTTAWA — If cost of living in Canada continues to decline as at present, bonus applied to Canadian wages in July will be repealed Nov. 1.

Living costs started down in August with a decline of two-tenths of 1 per cent below the July figure. Further declines have occurred in September and by the end of this month there should be a recession of one full point below July.

Under existing policy the bonus must be paid for every rise of 1 per cent and then after three months the situation must be reviewed again. Next review period will be the end of October.

It is by no means certain that the recent decline will continue and much will depend on the outcome of the present pressure of the farming community for increased food prices. Cost of living index stood 16.8 per cent above the pre-war level in August, though food had advanced 30.5 per cent.

Next 12 Months Most Critical

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (CP) — The next 12 months will be the most critical of the war, especially in the Pacific theatre, Prime Minister Peter Fraser said today on his return here from the United States, where he attended sessions of the Pacific War Council and inspected American production.

"From what I have seen," Mr. Fraser said, "we will have to steel ourselves for the next 12 months... The position in the Solomons and South Pacific generally is such that our forces must be and will be strengthened in every possible way. It is not considered adequate merely to hold the enemy. The United Nations' forces must advance."

Hou on Air

Munitions Minister C. D. Howe will speak over CBC from 5:05 to 5:30 p.m. this evening. He is expected to announce a tightening of gasoline regulations.

What Speed Does to Your Tires

This chart, sent by President Roosevelt to Secretary for distribution, shows how different auto speeds wear your tires. Look it over, motorist, and take heed because rationing is upon you. ### Pearson Would Compel Recognition of Unions

The Industrial Conciliation and Arbitration Act should be amended to compel union recognition, Hon. George S. Pearson, Minister of Labor, said today.

As he handed to the press copies of the findings of the arbitration board which inquired into the dispute between MacMillan Industries Ltd. of Vancouver and its plywood division employees, the minister said:

"Most of our disputes are over the refusal of companies to properly bargain with the properly elected representatives of their employees and further by the positive refusal of nearly all employers to accept union agreements."

"I have come to the conclusion, in my own personal opinion, that the time is now ripe to seriously consider amendments to the act, so that employers shall be compelled to bargain with the properly elected committees of their employees, and where the majority of the employees can be shown to be bona fide members."

$5 Sawdust Price

VANCOUVER (CP) — Wartime Prices and Trade Board order from Ottawa today bans installation of further sawdust burners in the greater Vancouver area, except under permit.

The order prohibits consumers from accepting sawdust or wood deliveries, or placing orders, if they have two or more units of sawdust or cords of wood in storage.

It establishes a ceiling price of $5 per unit of 200 cubic feet of bagged Douglas fir sawdust and $4 per unit for sawdust of other varieties. (Previously a seasonal ceiling ranging up to $5 a unit had been set.)

Dieppe Loss Rate Higher Than Any In Great War?

REGINA (CP) — M. A. MacPherson of Regina said in an address at the annual meeting of the Northside Conservative Association here that the percentage losses of Canadians at Dieppe had been higher than in any single battle of the first Great War.

He said he based his statement on an estimate he had made of the number of Canadians taking part. He criticized the federal government for not releasing to the public the number of Canadian troops involved.

(Charles Bishop, Parliamentary correspondent of the Ottawa Citizen and the Southern papers, says that Dieppe casualties "may have amounted to as much as three-fifths of the force involved." Mr. Bishop reports that although the size of the force has never been made public officially, sources at Ottawa whose accuracy there is every reason to trust, say it was "something over 5,000.")

There could not have been more than 5,000 Canadians in the battle, Mr. Macpherson said. Tuesday Defence Minister Ralston announced losses suffered by the Canadians totaled 3,350.

URGES STATEMENT

"My view is that the Minister of National Defence should forthwith tell the people of Canada actually how many Canadians were engaged at Dieppe so that on the basis of casualties announced they would realize to the full what the battle has meant and the sacrifices the future holds in store for us," said Mr. Macpherson.

'BIGGEST EVER ISSUED'

OTTAWA (CP) — The army looked into its records today and decided Tuesday's monster Dieppe casualty list — 2,519 names of missing men — was the biggest individual list ever issued here.

One spokesman said that lists of about 1,000 names were issued during the first Great War. The nearest thing to the Tuesday list in this war was a 500-name list of soldiers who were taken prisoners of war when Hongkong fell last Christmas Day, issued a few weeks ago.

Most Fell at Dieppe In First Half Hour

WATERLOO, Ont. (CP) — Pte. Louis Hodgson of Waterloo, 23, who was at Dieppe, said here today the R.A.F. put on "the finest show I ever saw" at Dieppe.

"They were just like a hood," he said. "If it hadn't been for the air force, I don't think a man would have been able to get out. If they co-operate in the same way in an invasion it will be a cinch."

Hodgson arrived home Wednesday. He was wounded in the left arm by shrapnel during the attack, at an advance dressing station, as a member of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps.

"It was absolute hell," he said of the raid. "You've seen pictures in the movies that were fakes, but looked pretty awful. Well, it was something like that, only worse. Men dropped like flies, and the majority of them went down in a half hour after the first landing."

Fragments of Jap Bomb in Oregon

A small forest fire was the result of Japan's first real air raid on the mainland United States. These are fragments of a Japanese incendiary bomb and jagged bits of earth fused by the heat of the incendiary found in a southern Oregon forest after an unidentified seaplane was reported over the area on Sept. 9. Ideograph markings on the bits of metal identified them as of Japanese origin. A small crater and fire were found where the bomb hit.

Today's WAR NEWS Analysis

By DE WITT MacKENZIE

Associated Press War Analyst
The world's ears are twitching with the announcement by Gen. Hata, Jap commander-in-chief in China, that "the East Asia war is about to take an important step in co-operation with the European war" — a statement calculated to convey the impression that Nippon is going to attack Russia or India.

Just what scheme motivates the devious Oriental mind in spreading this propaganda isn't apparent, although the odor of red herring is strong along the trail. Maybe the Japs are telling the exact truth — adopting Hitler's tactics of fooling the enemy by announcing his real intentions in advance. It's equally possible that Hata is just lying for benefit of Mikado and country.

DANGEROUS FOR JAPS

The probabilities are that Japan doesn't want to undertake either of these dangerous adventures. They would be illogical military moves, since her whole business now should be to consolidate her dangerously widespread conquests before the rapidly growing strength of the Allies overtakes her. She will be a fool if she attacks Russia or India.

Still, the importunities of Hitler may move the Japs to embark on a new war in hopes that this may hasten the end of the Allies. The fall of Stalingrad would be impressive — and this industrial giant of the Volga today is shielded by the strategic waterway that a body so torn from wounds that it will be a miracle if the Germans are thrown back. Should the Japs be beguiled into playing cat's paw for the Nazi all-highest, the fall of Stalingrad might turn the trick.

The peril Japan would risk in going after Siberia or India would be many. The most vital

Russians Report City Not Fallen; Bombs Rain Down

By HENRY C. CASSIDY

MOSCOW (AP) — Russian and German infantrymen battled in the attics and cellars of a north-western section of Stalingrad today after the gates of the city finally had been opened to the invaders by massed tanks.

Bombs rained down without a let-up on the defending army — made up of soldiers, Soviet marines and armed civilians — and buildings within the smoking city on the elbow of the Volga as waves of Nazi dive-bombers hurried themselves into the assault.

It was apparent from field dispatches that the German air force held a clear numerical superiority and was hard pressed for Soviet fliers to meet.

The Moscow radio announced the invaders were maintaining their advance, despite thousands of casualties.

Fighting Continues, City Not Falling

Successful defensive actions were stressed by the Soviet Information Bureau's mid-day communiqué a few hours later, however, and Russian field dispatches in no way intimated the fighting was lessened or that the city was falling.

"In the northwestern outskirts of Stalingrad, enemy automatic riflemen supported by tanks were repulsed by a Soviet infantry unit," the communiqué said. "Six tanks were disabled or set on fire by anti-tank rifle fire, hand grenades and incendiary bottles. The enemy automatic riflemen were surrounded and wiped out."

About 650 Germans were reported slain on other sectors of the Stalingrad defense zone in engagements which frequently developed hand-to-hand fighting. Nazi tanks, armored cars and ammunition trucks were brought under the damaging fire of Red army artillery.

Tremendous fury was reported in the fighting in the north-western section, with the Germans swarming into every house they could seize.

They fired from attics and cellars, a dispatch said, but the Red Army men ejected them from many.

Nazis Rush Planes From Netherlands

German planes were reported previously to have been rushed from many distant sectors, including north Africa, for the assault, and the government newspaper Izvestia said documents in the ruins of a downed Junkers transport showed it had been flown to Stalingrad from the Netherlands.

Masayuki Tani Named Jap Foreign Minister

Big Grain Store To Be Diverted To Cattle, Hogs

OTTAWA (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner today announced a major agricultural program to make use of vast stores of grain now available and increase the output of annual products for Canada and her Allies.

The minister outlined steps in the program as follows:
1. A new agreement will be signed with the United Kingdom for the provision of bacon, with the figure of 675,000,000 pounds mentioned as the possible export in the coming year compared with 600,000,000 pounds in the contract year ending in about seven weeks.

Farmers will be urged to breed more sows from now on to ensure success for the hog production program.

TO RESTORE PORK

2. As soon as possible pork will be restored to full volume on the Canadian market without interfering with British requirements. When this has been done, the adequate supply of pork for Canadian domestic needs will release beef for the United States market. This will permit the Americans to release beef from their home market for shipment to Britain.

3. A program will be undertaken to encourage the feeding of beef cattle until they are at least three years old, and to bring about an increase in the number of animals turned into beef.

Mr. Gardiner said that at last supplies of grain were sufficient to permit planning for a two-year program.

Japs Advance

Bitter Combat In New Guinea

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia (CP)—The main bodies of the Allied and Japanese forces in New Guinea were locked in bitter combat today approximately 32 miles inland from Port Moresby following a new enemy advance down the southern slopes of the rugged, densely-wooded Owen Stanley Mountains.

The immediate scene of the battle is the tiny hamlet of Ioribaiva, which the Japanese reached Thursday after pushing forward eight miles from Efofi, where they had been stalled for a week after crossing the summit of the mountains with the aid of their familiar infiltration tactics.

A communique from Allied headquarters said the Japanese are exerting heavy pressure and that "serious fighting" is in progress, but there is no indication of the turn it is taking.

JAPS DETERMINED

The Japanese evidently were strongly reinforced during the last week and are throwing everything into a determined effort to reach Port Moresby, a vital link in Australia's outer defences.

An Allied spokesman said that, despite the rugged nature of the terrain the Japanese brought up mountain guns and are employing mortars and machine guns as well. It is believed their spearhead on the southern side of the mountains is composed of several thousand men.

The Japanese advance Thursday brought them into contact for the first time with the main body of the Allied forces defending the approaches to Port Moresby, which also had been reinforced during the last week.

While Ioribaiva is only 32 miles by air from Port Moresby it ordinarily takes two days to travel between the two points along narrow, tortuous trails.

U.S. Planes Plaster Japs on Kiska

STRATEGICALLY IMPORTANT tip of Aleutian Islands shown in centre of map indicates threat to Alaska and Siberia if held by Japs, to Japan if held by United Nations.

WASHINGTON (AP)

The United States navy announced today that an army air force attacked the Japanese base at Kiska harbor in the Aleutians Monday, blasting eight enemy ships, destroying six planes, killing or wounding 500 troops and wrecking shore installations.

The raid was carried out by consolidated "Liberator" bombers, accompanied by fighters, which were identified as Bell "Albacorbs" and Lockheed "Lightnings."

The enemy's installations and ships were bombed and strafed from a low altitude. The Japs attempted to repel the attack with planes and weak anti-aircraft resistance, the navy said, but not a single American aircraft was lost "as a result of enemy action."

NAVY STATEMENT

The navy's communique gave this account of results in the Sept. 14 attack:
Two mine sweepers were sunk. Three large cargo ships were damaged by bombs.

Three submarines and several small craft were damaged by bombs and machine gun fire.

Storehouses and supply dumps in the camp area were set afire by repeated attacks.

Four Zero fighters and one small plane were shot down.

One large patrol plane was destroyed on the water.

An estimated 500 troops were either killed or wounded. This was the navy's first communique touching on operations in the Aleutians, where the Japs gained a foothold in early June.

since Aug. 22, when it was reported that a submarine had sunk a large Japanese merchant ship in that area.

Including the eight ships sunk or damaged today, the Japanese now have suffered 32 ships sunk or damaged in the Aleutians since they first moved in. For their losses they have maintained their foothold on Kiska and the islands of Attu and Agattu, but have not in recent weeks expanded their positions or moved any nearer the north American continent.

Educationists To Aid Peace Reconstruction

Canada and Newfoundland Education Association, in 20th annual convention at the Empress Hotel, will place a permanent secretary of education in Ottawa to work in close co-operation with all government departments and to help the federal government committee on reconstruction to survey the educational needs of the post-war period.

Speaker after speaker at the convention have stressed the importance of education, both to the war effort and the period that will follow victory.

In the same regard a panel committee, under chairmanship of Dr. C. C. Goldring, Toronto superintendent of schools, has drawn up a resolution asking federal aid to the various provinces, now being made as a war effort, be continued when peace comes.

The association's secretariat of education in the national capital is expected to concentrate on the continuance of such aid.

MORE EDUCATION

The same committee has gone on record favoring compulsory part-time education to 18 years, as a post-war reconstructive measure.

Another panel committee, under Dr. G. F. McNally, by resolution is asking that the Canadian government make available at the secondary school level, funds for scholarships, bursaries and grants to individuals "in a manner similar to that by which they are now provided for students at the college and university level, but without restriction as to the vocational field into which the student seeks entrance."

This committee believes that grants to education be directed in the main towards rural and less densely populated centres "it being in these that the paucity of educational opportunity is most pronounced." The preamble to this resolution says "It has long been apparent that children living in certain parts of Canada do not have educational opportunity comparable to that enjoyed by children in other communities or provinces."

SALARY ADJUSTMENTS

A committee on teacher training reports that "salary adjustments are an urgent necessity if we are to secure the right type of teachers in sufficient numbers."

A resolution asks that steps be taken to secure a larger and better supply of teachers through an adequate guidance program and through school clubs and similar organizations, and that consideration be given to altering requirements to include recognition of previous training and experience, such as music, travel, leadership in children's activities.

Differences In Plywood Arbitration

There has been "no improper discrimination by the company against any employee or former employees," according to the findings of the majority award of the arbitration board set up by the Department of Labor to enquire into a dispute between MacMillan Industries Ltd. and its plywood division employees.

The board was composed of Bruce Boyd, chairman; R. H. Tupper and A. J. Turner, C.C.F. member for Vancouver East. Mr. Boyd and Mr. Tupper making a majority, agreed on their findings, Mr. Turner disagreeing.

Mr. Boyd and Mr. Tupper report: "We find that no contract should be made between the company and Local 1-217 of the International Woodworkers' Association. We find this association was responsible for the genesis and continuation of this dispute."

OLD FASHIONED

Mr. Turner, in his minority report, found "the attitude of the company is the old-fashioned, anti-labor position taken by many of the large corporations in the Pacific Northwest. The position taken by the company in opposing union recognition because of the type of its present leaders, or leadership or because of the history of the union, is not a legitimate reason for such opposition."

Of two MacMillan employees, Mr. Turner said: "I consider that discrimination has been shown both these men, who were particularly active in union organization work and have been refused re-employment."

Mr. Boyd and Mr. Tupper found a misunderstanding of the situation regarding wages since the regional war labor boards were constituted was the prime cause of the dispute. They recommend the company and its employees make another application to the regional board, submitting all relevant information "in order that no doubt may exist in the mind of any employee that his or her wages or cost-of-living bonus has not been carefully reviewed by the only body competent to do so—the employees, through their representatives, should join in the application—it is hoped by this board that in this way any inequalities whatsoever which may exist will be removed."

Mr. Turner agreed with Mr. Boyd and Mr. Tupper on the matter of wages. "I cannot emphasize too strongly the necessity for removing the present inequalities in the wage rates," he said, recommending the immediate opening of negotiations between the company and the union for a joint agreement."

An honorary life membership was conferred by the association on R. F. Blacklock, for 35 years connected with Saskatchewan's department of education, who is now living in retirement in Victoria at 465 Victoria Avenue. Mr. Blacklock left his work two years ago as registrar for the department at Regina. He is one of Canada's leading educationists and for many years has taken an active part in the nationwide work of the association.

Mystery Raft On Long Island

NEW YORK (AP)—An announcement was jointly issued by the eastern defence command and the eastern sea frontier today said:

"Last night, Sept. 16, at about 10 p.m., E.D.T., a local coast guard patrol on a Long Island beach near the Hamptons found a small raft and reported that a prowler was seen running along the beach in that vicinity."

"A shot was fired in an unsuccessful attempt to halt the prowler. An army beach patrol arrived at the scene within a few minutes. Soldiers, police and coast guards searched the vicinity, but discovered nothing unusual."

The "Hamptons" are a group of villages on the south shore of Long Island about three-quarters of the distance from New York to the island's tip at Montauk Point.

The location is within 25 miles of the point at Amagansett Beach where four Nazi saboteurs landed in June. They subsequently were tried with four others who landed on a Florida beach, by a military commission in Washington. Six of the eight were executed.

MOTORISTS QUESTIONED

BAY SHORE, N.Y. (AP)—State and village police throughout eastern Long Island stopped motorists today and requested them and their passengers to identify themselves.

There was no official explanation of the action.

Trains of the Long Island Railroad bound for New York also were boarded by authorities who checked on the identities of passengers.

Sisters Drowned

Nazis to Conscript Alsations, Lorrainers

NEW YORK (CP)—BBC said today that in response to Germany's demand, Alsations and Lorrainers resident in unoccupied France will be expelled by the Vichy French authorities so they may be drafted into the German armed forces.

Alsations and Lorrainers serving in the French navy will be released for service with the German navy. All Alsations and Lorrainers between the ages of 14 and 28 resident in France will be affected. Those between 14 and 17 will be placed in the German labor service and the rest in the German armed forces.

This measure follows the introduction of compulsory military service in German-occupied Alsace-Lorraine itself.

3 R.C.A.F. Bomber Groups In 800-Plane Rhine Raid

LONDON (CP)—A strong force of British bombers, including at least three R.C.A.F. squadrons, made a heavy attack on the Ruhr Valley Wednesday night, following up a dusk attack by light bombers on Wiesbaden, in the Rhineland.

Wiesbaden is the seat of the German armistice commission which deals with French armistice matters.

The night raid on the industrial heart of Germany left many fires burning, some of them large.

Canadian fliers returning from the raid said they encountered only light clouds over the Ruhr Valley, but found that the industrial haze which is constantly over the district restricted visibility of ground detail.

Sgt. Benoit Levesque of Clair, N.B., carried a 4,000-pound bomb in his plane, but said he saw no flash when it fell.

"I was too busy getting away from the flak and searchlights, but could see fires burning as I went in over the target," he said.

Sgt. Bill Gray of Winnipeg and Sgt. Harold Jacobsen of Vancouver flew with Levesque.

Flt-Lt. Hal Shockley, Vancouver; Flt-Sgt. R. L. Turnbull, Digby, N.S.; P.O. Wendell Palmer, Woodstock, N.B., and Sgt. Orrin Henderson, Macarrie, Sask., said they could see built-up areas ablaze.

DODGED SEARCHLIGHTS

W.O. Wally Ferrier of Montreal piloted his plane between two large searchlight cones, dodged and slipped out again. His crew included P.O. E. Mason, RCAF, Sask.; Sgt. Karl Decker, Kitchener, Ont., and P.O.

Tom Fillingham of Wellington, Ont.

"The fires were not so concentrated as in the 1,000-bomber raid on Cologne, but they covered a wider area," reported Flt-Sgt. Edward Murphy of Dorchester, Mass., a veteran of many raids. "The red glow from the fires was reflected by the clouds over the target."

The R.A.F. communiqué said that during the two forays over the Ruhr Valley and Wiesbaden 39 planes were lost. The attack on Wiesbaden meant the traversing of nearly 400 miles of enemy territory in daylight, and this phase of the operations might have accounted for the large number of planes lost. However, there was no official indication of this.

If the usual 5 per cent loss ratio prevailed, as many as 800 planes may have been sent out. An authoritative source said specifically, however, that it was not a 1,000-bomber operation.

The R.A.F. ran its string of night assaults on the Reich this month to 10 by this attack.

A German broadcast said several localities in the Rhineland and Westphalia had been bombed. Of the nine previous night attacks which the R.A.F. has launched against Germany since start of the month, all but one have been on a major scale and most have involved hundreds of planes.

The targets have included Saarbrücken, Karlsruhe, Duisburg, Frankfurt, Düsseldorf, Wilhelmshaven and Bremen—which was raided twice.

Reflecting the tenseness created in Germany by this continuing offensive was a Berlin broadcast Wednesday warning the German people to "see to it that the blackout is complete." The warning was repeated by all Nazi radio stations.

While the R.A.F. was over Germany Wednesday night a few Nazi raiders dropped bombs at several places in East Anglia, but official reports said they did little damage and caused no casualties.

Nine persons were killed Wednesday, however, when German raiders bombed and machine-gunned three towns on the south and southwest coasts.

British fighters simultaneously made a daylight sweep over northern France, patrolling the coast from Berck to Le Treport without challenge from German planes. On their return flight across the Channel they encountered 30 German fighters and a dogfight resulted in which several Nazi planes were damaged and one British plane was lost.

Spitfire fighters intercepted a group of high-flying German daylight raiders over the English Channel this morning and turned them back after they had tried three times to cross the British south coast.

GERMAN CLAIMS
BERLIN, From German Broadcasts (AP)—D.N.B., German news and propaganda agency, claimed today that German bombers attacked Colchester, a military district headquarters 52 miles northeast of London, and an east coast port of England Wednesday night.

Manpower Needs Of U.S. Probed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government attempt to determine the future manpower needs of the armed forces and industry in the United States was disclosed to Congress today amid indications the administration soon would seek a national service to combat labor shortages.

Wendell Lund, director of the War Production Board's labor division, said government agencies are preparing a decision "on the largest and most efficient possible army which can be fully serviced by those who are left outside the armed forces."

"Until that decision is made, twin dangers face the nation's war effort," he said in a statement submitted to the House of Representatives committee on defense migration. Donald Nelson, W.P.B. chief, also is scheduled to appear before the committee.

"On the one hand," Lund said, "workers may be taken out of jobs into the army in such a way as to cripple production of the armed forces need for their maximum efficiency. On the other hand, there is danger the armed forces may be denied the men they need to operate the war machine."

"Until this decision is made, the selective service and the war manpower commission are gravely hampered in their parallel responsibilities of manning the armed forces and industry."

Recruit Yugoslav Troops in Canada

OTTAWA (CP)—Special and probably dangerous war roles await the Yugoslav troops whom Col. D. P. Savitch hopes to recruit and train in Canada.

He is looking for men to reinforce Yugoslav air force squadrons fighting with the R.A.F. in the Middle East and Gen. Draga Mihailovich's tough army which is still battling the German occupation forces in the homeland.

Just how men who may be recruited and trained in Canada can reach and join the Yugoslav army at home is something he is not talking about for obvious reasons.

Tall and slim with heavy black eyebrows, Col. Savitch has come to Canada on a military mission. He now is trying to find what Yugoslav citizens who may be fit and available for service are in Canada with a view to asking them to join the army and report for training at Windsor, Ont.

A similar survey is being made in the United States.

'Australianizing' Air Squadrons

OTTAWA (CP)—Royal Australian Air Force overseas is under operational orders of the Royal Air Force, but Australia desired to make it as self-contained as possible. Air Marshal R. Williams, Australian officer commanding in Washington, said here. He is in Canada to study operation of the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan.

(Canada is enlarging the number of R.C.A.F. units with Canadian personnel overseas, and Air Minister Power announced recently that a bomber group of from 10 to 20 Canadian squadrons soon would be operating in the United Kingdom.)

Air Marshal Williams said Australia was anxious to "Australianize" the R.A.A.F. and, to make it as self-contained as possible so its national identification would be more apparent.

He was air officer commanding for Australia in London until a few months ago and then was ordered to Washington in the same capacity. Australian and United States airmen are flying together in Pacific war zones.

Tax Adjustment

REGINA (CP)—Hon. Colin Gibson, Minister of National Revenue, said here that special provision is being made for persons who earn less than a taxable amount in 1942, so that deductions from income tax would not be made from their weekly or monthly salaries.

"For instance," Mr. Gibson explained in an interview, "if a person started work toward the end of 1942, earning only an amount that would be exempt from taxation for the year, it would be unfair to make the usual tax deductions from his weekly or monthly salary."

"For that reason such persons will be asked to file income tax returns in January, 1943, so that deductions made by the employer at the source of the employee's income may be stopped, and refunds claimed for any amount unduly deducted."

I.L.O., 2 Years in Canada, Advances Post-War Studies

MONTREAL — The member states of the International Labor Organization are heavily obligated to the Canadian government and McGill University for "enabling the I.L.O. to remain an active force during the war years," said Edward J. Phelan, acting director of the I.L.O., in a statement issued on the second anniversary of the establishment of the organization's working headquarters in this city.

"The International Labor Office owes a great debt to Canadians for their cordial hospitality in the two years the I.L.O. has had its working centre in Montreal," the statement said. The office was also indebted to the Canadian government, it added, "for a series of measures which has allowed the I.L.O. to act with full independence as an official international institution."

"The vision and courage shown by John G. Winant, then the director of the I.L.O., in assuming responsibility for the transfer from Geneva in 1940," Mr. Phelan said, "have been abundantly justified by the wide range of activities which the I.L.O. has undertaken since the transfer, and which it would have been impossible for it to pursue if it had continued in Geneva."

FROM GENEVA

Formed in 1919, the International Labor Organization operated from Geneva for 20 years, until the 1940 German offensive made it essential to transfer its principal activities to a centre where it could expect to enjoy the complete freedom of speech and action necessary to a democratic international institution.

Montreal was chosen as emergency headquarters by agreement between the Canadian government and Mr. Winant, now the United States Ambassador to Great Britain. In September, 1940, the first members of the I.L.O. staff to arrive here from Geneva began work in offices loaned by McGill University.

"The special conference of the I.L.O. in New York last year, at which representatives of the governments, employers and workers of 34 free nations evolved a common approach toward the social aspect of world reconstruction, would not have been possible without the facilities for continuing its work which the I.L.O. has enjoyed in Canada."

RECONSTRUCTION STUDIES

"The recent meetings of the emergency committee of the I.L.O.'s governing body and of the Joint Maritime Commission in London, the forthcoming Inter-American Conference on Social Security in Santiago, Chile, and the series of Canada-United States tripartite meetings on labor supply problems have all been prepared from the I.L.O. working centre in Montreal."

"The work now in progress includes both studies of wartime labor problems, a number of which have been undertaken in response to specific requests from governments, and studies of long-range reconstruction problems."

"These reconstruction studies will not be academic. At the New York conference, the I.L.O. was accorded a right of scrutiny over the economic proposals to be embodied in the postwar settlement, and the studies in progress are designed to enable the organs of the I.L.O., in which governments, employers and workers all participate, to exercise that right on the basis of a full knowledge of the facts."

The I.L.O.'s staff is now being strengthened to carry out this work. Officials of 20 nationalities are at work in the Montreal office and efforts are currently being made to strengthen the Asiatic and Latin American elements of the staff.

Although the I.L.O.'s working headquarters are now established here, a small staff is still maintained at the official "seat" of the office in Geneva. This staff continues to occupy a part of the large building constructed by the I.L.O. on the shore of Lake Lemman on a site donated by the Swiss government. In addition, branch offices are maintained in London, Washington, New Delhi, and Chungking, and correspondents in numerous other countries.

Letters to Editor

Correspondents are reminded to use one side of the paper only, to write legibly, and to keep their communications within a reasonable length. A short letter, with a point convincingly emphasized, has a better chance of publication than one with laborious platitudes.

OUR SCENIC TIMBER

Last night, page 3, you had another item under the heading, "Scenic Timber Area Destroyed by Logging." A little while ago you stated editorially that nothing could be done about it till the government arranged with the owners of the timber for an exchange with a block of timber somewhere else, or words to that effect.

I wondered at that time and many times since—and so must others have wondered—why it is that the federal government can do practically everything under the "Defence of Canada Regulations," and yet no way can be found to stop some people, who are only out for profit, to utterly destroy what is, in essence, the property of the people in general and which never should have been allowed to get into the hands of those predatory interests.

Is there any real democrat who will deny that, if the will was there, the government (federal and provincial jointly, if necessary) could stop this?

BOMBING ROME

It was with a mixture of both admiration and awe one read W. D. Munro's letter which you so bravely published.

Many people know that Rome is the sanctuary of the Machiavellists who both make wars and break empires.

They have chosen that domicile because it gives them safety behind the purple of the church. The blueprints have been drawn up to make of this old world a matter of two units, but the probable third is what is giving them so much trouble, namely, the Anglo-Saxons.

The Machiavellian tribe—who are the money monopolists—are planning to bring the whole world under subjection.

Remove the Pope to a place of safety—if needs must—and you remove the "excuse" for not bombing Rome.

Of course Rome should be eternally bombed until Satan is stripped of his mask and the fiends exposed who issue their orders-in-council over the signature of Nazi, Fascists and Co., Ltd.

Thank you for taking the broad view, for while one knows the people are not dead, we sadly fear that they sleepeth. Long live the free press!

'Rowdy' Killed

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—Rowdy, the brown and white fox terrier whose reprieve from death a year ago attracted nationwide interest, died in action with the United States army.

He was struck down and killed a couple of days ago while conveying Mrs. Donald V. McHugh across an intersection while on sentry duty at Hamilton Field.

Last year Rowdy was sentenced to die in the will of his mistress, the late Mrs. Clara L. S. Edgerton, who feared he might be abused, without her protection. Rowdy finally was placed in the custody of Sgt. Alfred Bowes of Hamilton Field after months of battle in the courts to circumvent the will.

Students Must Work Or Join Army

WINNIPEG (CP)—Dr. Sidney E. Smith, president of the University of Manitoba, announced Wednesday that if a male student manifests that he has not worked hard at his studies his name will be forwarded to the National Services Board with the suggestion that he be called to the army immediately.

Dr. Smith issued the warning in a statement outlining conditions prescribed by the government and the university under which male students of military fitness and age may attend the institution.

In Attics and Cellars

Russian and German infantrymen are fighting today in the attics and cellars of houses in the northwestern suburbs of Stalingrad. The enemy's prodigious use of men and material enabled Marshal Fedor von Bock's mighty machine to break through the outer defences after an unparalleled aerial assault had blasted a path. But the struggle goes on; every inch of the Nazi advance is bought at a fearful price. German prisoners say that some of Hitler's regiments are losing their effectiveness at the rate of 80 per cent; yet the supply of reinforcements appears to be almost inexhaustible. In the central and southwestern approaches to the great battered city the defenders have given no ground in the last 24 hours. Nor are the invaders making much headway in their drive toward the Grozny oil fields—still some 50 miles from the scene of these operations.

Whether it is possible for our gallant ally to reinforce the people's army now locked in this bitter struggle for the metropolis on the Volga, or to bring up sufficient aerial and tank strength to prolong the siege and prevent the enemy from establishing himself on Russia's great water supply line, naturally depends largely upon von Bock's ability to maintain the present enormous pressure which takes no account of either physical or material losses. Every day the city holds is a precious day lost in Hitler's program for the Caucasian conquest—now far behind the Nazi schedule. Not that any relief can be expected from falling temperatures for some time. But it has been generally accepted by authorities not given to wishful thinking that unless the Wehrmacht has progressed much farther eastward by the beginning of October, the Fuehrer will have received conclusive evidence that the year 1942 will present him with no military decision in Russia. Even with the capture of Stalingrad, with a bridgehead on the eastern bank of the Volga, the Russian armies will remain intact.

While we have been told that the spirit of modern Russia has its heart in Stalingrad, for the Germans it is a city that has to be taken or destroyed, and their dive-bombers already have reduced many of its magnificent buildings and broad streets to heaps of rubble. If the city is lost, of course, with it will go much of the value of the Caucasus to the Russians, while passage of the Volga will be denied to shipments of British and American supplies now being ferried across the Caspian Sea from Iran. Still remaining to our valiant allies, however, is the industrial productivity and the natural wealth of the Ural region—where brand new towns are turning out weapons, new areas producing food, and new oil wells are being exploited. These would be the basis of Russia's future strength. Add to this the fact that the Soviet offensives in the Voronezh, Rzhev and Leningrad areas are causing the Nazi high command considerable concern, and at least the blow of the great Volga city's fall would be somewhat softened. Other developments elsewhere, too, may present compensation at any time.

Much More to Be Done

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT HAS TOLD Congress that the United States is producing only a little more than 50 per cent of its maximum possible war potential, and not until that maximum has been reached "can our fighting men and those of our allies be assured of the vastly greater quantities of weapons required to turn the tide."

Also, in Britain, Minister of Production Oliver Lyttleton, answering what he called "a feeling in the United States that we are carrying on the war with weapons supplied by them, and marking time until the American forces gather for a successful offensive," had this to say yesterday:

"The total production of weapons of war produced in this country during the past three years far exceeds the total volume achieved in the United States. The output per man is far above what it is in the United States. But they are catching up: They have already surpassed our current production and their vast resources will soon change the whole complexion of the Anglo-American balance sheet."

In Washington on Monday, Senator Harry S. Truman, chairman of the Senate committee investigating the war effort, charged that the United States pursuit planes are inferior to those of the Germans and British, adding that "subsequent facts" in this regard supported evidence produced by the committee as long ago as January of this year. He then went on:

"Scarcely a week now goes by without some prominent flier returning to this country and asking why we can't give the boys better pursuit planes."

It is well that those in a position to now should bring out the facts. To remain silent is dangerous and merely lulls the public into a feeling of false security. Mr. Roosevelt's statement is alarmingly out of commensurate frank.

Priority for Lumbering

LOGGING AND LUMBERING ARE OFFICIALLY classed under the policy now laid down at Ottawa as essential wartime industries. Top-ranking status as regards labor and materials is thereby accorded to what, combined, constitute British Columbia's No. 1 industry. In conjunction with a ruling to this effect, Mr. Elliott Little, director of National Selective Service, has undertaken to provide more manpower, chiefly bush labor, for year-round operations in the Pacific coast area, as well as for fall and winter logging in the east. From the farms, 110,000 men are to be transferred to logging camps and pulp plants.

Conditions have been such that, in the face of increasing demand, lumber production has tended to dwindle. Hon. C. D. Howe last week warned that this decline was threatening the "gravest timber shortage in Canada's history." Labor scarcity has been the factor chiefly responsible. Experienced timbermen have been taken into the services, notably units of the overseas Forestry Corps. The shipyards, where the wage scale has been frozen at a level higher than the general level of the lumbering industry, have attracted many. Leaders of the timber industry have for upwards of a year been warning the government of the production crisis ahead and have been petitioning for remedial measures.

An order transferring unskilled men from the farms, should ease the labor difficulty in the east, where lumbering is mostly a hand operation. There may be doubt as to its efficiency in this province where, because of the size of the timber, lumbering is highly mechanized, requiring experienced and specialized operators. That employers here would prefer to have back in the camps their experienced men now in urban war industries, is indicated by the recent statement that many would now readily go back to the camps if the wage discrepancy were removed. It may be that Ottawa has in view some adjustment to bring this about, whereby the place of experienced loggers now in urban industries would be filled by the men brought from the farms. Every such move to bring about adjustments emphasizes the intricacies of our national manpower difficulty. Every consideration of the problem points to the inevitability of more rigorous curtailment of nonessential industries to add to the total of manpower available for essential industries.

Why the Beef Shortage?

TO CONSUMERS THE BEEF SHORTAGE is not news, but judging from all the loose talk about it there is news in the actual reasons for the shortage. It is only too evident that the facts on beef supply and marketing are not generally understood. The Financial Post has gathered them and their presentation makes the whole situation more intelligible.

Although the flow of cattle to the higher-priced United States markets may have been an immediate cause of the scarcity, the main reason is found to be lack of long-range foresight. It takes two to three years to bring cattle to the beef stage. For the farmer it is a long-term investment and sometimes a costly one. In the agricultural crash after the last war, Canadian farmers lost millions of dollars on beef cattle. They had tied up their money only to have the animals reach the slaughtering stage when the market had gone to pieces. Some of them had all their capital and credit tied up in these cattle.

The Post finds that farmers, remembering that costly lesson, have been cautious about expanding beef cattle holdings during this war. Compared with the gain in the output of hogs, which are more quickly matured, the gain in cattle has been small. It has not been large enough to cover normal cattle exports to the United States, plus a war-boosted domestic demand.

These fundamental facts point to a continuation of the beef shortage in a more or less acute form until the Canadian farmer is convinced that the cattle he raises or buys for feeding today will not become a liability to force him into bankruptcy should prices collapse before the animals are ready for market.

This Is Not Spring

MR. W. R. HERRIDGE, CANADIAN Minister to the United States during the Bennett regime at Ottawa, and founder of the New Democracy Movement, has nominated Mr. Roosevelt as supreme leader of a United Nations' military dictatorship. What the chief executive at Washington proposes to do about it, of course, is another matter; but the Herridge view is that "timid leadership" is losing the war, while his reason for choosing the President is that he has "the independence and the ruthlessness to liquidate inefficiency." This leads the Seattle Times to say:

"Even his warmest admirers and strongest supporters would be disinclined to see Mr. Roosevelt assume so much responsibility. They have not yet noted much ruthlessness on his part in liquidating inefficiency in the government of which he is the rightful head."

Our contemporary in the Sound City, moreover, sees in Mr. Herridge's plan a reflection on Mr. Churchill, Mr. King, Mr. Curtin and others highly placed in English-speaking governments. "And what has the ex-minister and N.D.M. founder against Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and Premier Stalin? The latter, for example, knew how to get rid of his inefficient or 'fifth column' generals well in advance of the German attack; and his leadership has produced miracles in the Soviet Union."

FAMILIAR FIGURE

ONLY A MINOR FRACTION of the English-speaking people of Canada tell the Gallup people that Mr. King is the greatest living Canadian; but assuredly they would admit, if they were here in Ottawa and could examine the exhibit at first hand, that Mr. King is the toughest living Canadian. For, according to all the prophets and probabilities, he would be politically dead now and would belong to history. Instead of which he gives the appearance of being more lively than ever.

This, when you come to think of it, is an amazing thing. As late as last July Mr. King's government appeared to be dissolving before his eyes. He never said so, of course. He never admitted and probably will not admit until he writes his memoirs that there was anything wrong. Officially, the cabinet crisis of early summer existed only in the imagination of a few newspapermen. Actually it was so real that no one on the inside would have bet a quarter that Mr. King could survive until autumn. But here he is, and no immediate trouble in sight.

PATIENCE

THIS WAS THE greatest feat of sheer patience in the record of this country. Mr. King outwaited everyone and the crisis just died of exhaustion. It couldn't last as long as Mr. King. And when you look back on his handling of conscription you are amazed at the uncanny faculty with which he stepped between the red-hot plowshares of racial politics without burning himself.

Whether all this was a good thing for the country in the end is a matter for history to judge. But certainly it was an incredible thing. Observe the steps: At first there was to be no conscription. Mr. Lapointe promised that unconditionally and beat Duplessis on it. Then by the summer of 1940, when the war seemed almost lost, there was to be conscription for Canadian defence only. Then the plebiscite. Then the insistence of several powerful cabinet ministers that Mr. King must promise to impose overseas conscription as soon as necessary and without any further permission from Parliament, the threat of resignations if Parliament were consulted again, the long, learned arguments of Colonel Ralston and Mr. Macdonald to prove that any further consultation with Parliament would be absurd and unthinkable. And finally Mr. King's bland announcement that of course he would consult Parliament before doing anything. And still no resignations, no cabinet break-up, the King government intact, with a slight smell of mortality about it, to be sure, but in what you might call vigorous old age.

NOT THE END

HOW WAS IT ALL accomplished? By masterly waiting, by superhuman patience. At every stage in this curious story Mr. King satisfied no one thoroughly but he never annoyed any group in his party enough to lose it entirely or permanently, not even the Quebec members who voted against him at one point. With sure instinct he steered between the red-hot plowshares without burning himself while nearly everyone else and a large part of his cabinet were burned up.

However, this does not end the piece. The final step remains to be taken, the step of overseas conscription, and it must be taken at some time if Canadian armies go into large-scale battle. When the need arises Mr. King will have to announce that men conscripted for service in the army at home can be sent anywhere. The home defence army will become an army without geographical restriction. It will not be a problem of conscripting men into the army for service overseas. It will be merely a change in the position of existing armies.

Quebec will take much more willingly than it would have taken a policy of drafting men for immediate overseas service. Or so it is thought here. It is even conceivable that the whole crisis which almost ruined Mr. King at one stage has passed, that the final step of total conscription can be taken without smashing his government and without smashing the country. Some time next year, perhaps, we should know. Meanwhile it is apparent that while Mr. King's progress, though not an inspiring spectacle, is one of the most remarkable on record. He, like Jonah, has lived for several years in the belly of a whale, but no whale seems tough enough to digest him.

Parallel Thoughts

Remember, O Lord, thy tender mercies and thy loving kindnesses; for they have been ever of old.—Psalms 25.6.

To Our Gallant Youth

By A. J. IRWIN, D.D.

In the August Readers' Digest there is to be found a touching and a very valuable human document. It is a letter from a young Hollander, 22 years old, to his father and the family. He, with three companions is to meet a firing squad in an hour or so. The title given the piece, which is taken by the Digest from The Week, is "I Die at Dawn."

The young men had endeavored to escape to Britain to join the Dutch forces in arms. They were captured in France.

For two weeks he had known that he was condemned to death by a German court, but an appeal had been pending, and to lessen his family's distress he refrained from writing until the last hour. The letter is beautiful in its delicate and tender solicitude, and in its encouragement for his mother and for each member of the family, but what gives it universal worth is its evidence of a supremely buoyant, yes resilient experience of the reality of the presence of God.

In its clarity and sense of sufficiency it rivals anything in the Psalms and is inevitably a modern commentary on the ancient assurance "The eternal God is thy refuge and underneath are the everlasting arms." In its testimony to the reality and value of religious experience it ranks with the highest religious classics.

All religion has, we believe, in its origin sprung from some sort of experience of the unseen. Its interpretation may sometimes have been even grotesque, but beneath it lies reality, reality only adequately apprehended by experience of which the conditions laid down by Christ are exacting.

The letter of this young Hollander about to die is redolent with the reality, the strength, and even the joy of God. The clarity and fullness of its wholly informal testimony to this reality can be gathered only by a perusal of the letter itself.

For years it has been the conviction and very real regret of the present writer that his generation, now passing, has somehow largely failed in the variety and wealth of its possessions, to transmit to the succeeding generation, or rather to lead it to discover in its clarity and power this vital sense of contact with God.

It is to some such experience that many of this passing generation feel they owe any strength of character and any sustained devotion to idealism that they may have possessed. To pass on its secret is surely "a consummation devoutly to be wished."

Such a sense of God illumined

Beauty Parlors Unite to Meet War Problems

Hairdressers of Victoria finding it practically impossible to secure permanent operators met in the Empress Hotel this week to confer with Geo. R. Matthews, provincial secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, to see what action could be taken, if any, to relieve the situation so that reasonable service could be given to the public.

Some proprietors reported a shortage of two and three experienced operators. They stated that unless something is done to secure help it will be practically impossible to carry on and meet present overhead expenses as prices cannot be increased to compensate for such losses.

Shops being conducted solely by the proprietor or one employee were in a preferred position as they were not as yet suffering to the same extent. It was pointed out that customers who adopt the policy of selecting the shop where they intend to have their work done regularly and stay with that shop will eventually also be in a preferred position.

ELIMINATE NEEDLESS SERVICE

Mr. Matthews stated that practically all establishments selling goods and services were experiencing similar difficulties and that the only hope of survival of those now in business lay in their own resourcefulness and ability to adjust their establishment to war-time conditions and eliminate every possible needless service and expense.

He stated the average customer was only waiting to be given an opportunity of co-operating especially as applied to hairdressing. This, he said, is essentially a business of service. He stated that so far as sales of commodities were concerned that to a large extent customers could personally, without the aid of a salesperson select a dress, or a piece of furniture or some article of food but this did not apply to the same extent to hairdressing which is dependent upon the services of the operator.

APPOINTMENT TROUBLES

One very serious complaint of the proprietors, which was being experienced by both large and small shops was the neglect of some customers to advise the shop when necessary to cancel an appointment in time to permit some other customer to be served at that hour. In many cases customers do not even take the trouble to notify the shop at all and a check-up revealed that frequently an appointment had been made for the same work at the same hour in more than one shop just to play safe.

As every hairdressing shop in Victoria is a member of the Hairdressers' Association it was decided to report to the association office all names of customers who in future make an appointment and fail to cancel if unable to keep same or give any satisfactory explanation.

Mr. Matthews agreed to have his office compile such information and regularly mail a list to each shop in Victoria so the proprietor would know to whom to refuse an appointment unless paid for in advance.

Howard Tyrrell, member of the Provincial Executive of the Hairdressers' Association, acted as chairman.

SINCLAIR FORBES

In the little Anglican church at Chemainus on Saturday afternoon, Sept. 12, at 3.30, Canon T. M. Hughes, rector of Quamichan and Cowichan, united in marriage Helen Barbara, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Forbes of "Overbury," Thetis Island, B.C., to Corporal Alan Ferguson Sinclair, R.C.A.F., of Bella Bella, B.C., only son of the late Dr. Sinclair and Mrs. E. P. Line of Mazenod, Sask. Goldenrod, Michaelmas daisies and golden dahlias made a lovely setting in the church. Corporal A. Hunt, R.C.A.F., of Vancouver, was at the organ, and the congregational hymn was "On Our Way Rejoicing."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an afternoon frock of dusty sky blue crepe with matching redingote fastened at the waist with self-covered buttons, long sleeves and a halo hat of navy blue felt. Her bridal bouquet was of red roses and white acacia, showered with white sweet peas. Mrs. W. W. Findlay of Victoria was matron of honor, in dove grey silk crepe with black accessories, and carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve pink sweet peas. Corporal Donald McDougall, R.C.A.F., Vancouver, was best man, and Messrs. Adam Hunter and Frank Alder acted as ushers.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents at Thetis Island, autumn flowers being massed throughout the rooms. Mrs. Forbes received in a softly draped gown of air force blue, with corsage of yellow rosebuds and purple heather. White tapers in antique silver candelabra and bowls of white sweet peas flanked the two-tiered cake on the bride's table.

Out-of-town guests included the Misses Luck Slack and Marguerite Murray, Vancouver; Pilot Officer A. G. Robinson and Corporal Arthur Hunt, Donald McDougall and Ellis Scott, all of the R.C.A.F., Vancouver; Miss Kay McDougall, Regina, Sask., and Mrs. A. C. Mortin, Hollywood, Cal.

After a week-end on Vancouver Island, for which the bride donned a navy blue fitted coat over her wedding ensemble, the young couple will visit the groom's parents in Mazenod, Sask. The bride will then resume her work as a physio-therapist at the Royal Columbian Hospital, New Westminster, while the groom returns to his duties at Bella Bella.

LOVITT-JARDINE

Diana June, third daughter of Mrs. Jardine, 616 Moss Street, and the late Mr. H. Jardine, and P.O. Gordon Henry Lovitt, R.C.N.V.R., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lovitt, 2770 Burdick Avenue, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 8.30 by Very Rev. Dean Elliott in Christ Church Cathedral. Mr. Stanley Bulley played the wedding music. The bridal couple stood between baskets of goldenrod and mauve michaelmas daisies, and white flowers were on the altar.

The bride was given in marriage by Mr. George Wallace, and wore a full skirted frock of white crepe chiffon, with a short-sleeved bodice of flowered lace. A shoulder veil trimmed her matching pillbox hat, and she carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses, white carnations and heather. Sister of the bride, Mrs. G. R. Reynolds, was the only attendant, wearing a full length gown of air force blue crepe with long sleeves and a silver embroidered bodice. Her old rose pillbox hat was trimmed with a blue flower, and she carried a bouquet of gerbera, scabiosa and Beal heather. Mr. Wallace Connorton supported the groom.

A reception was held at the home of the bridegroom's parents for relatives and intimate friends, where the rooms were arranged with gold and blue goldenrod, hydrangea and dahlias. Mrs. Jardine received the guests dressed in a French blue dress and hat, assisted by Mrs. Lovitt, in mauve silk with black accessories. They wore corsage bouquets of red and pink roses, respectively. The bride's cake centred the supper table arranged with vases of pastel-shaded flowers.

P.O. and Mrs. Lovitt will make their home in the De Cosmos Apartments after a honeymoon on the mainland. The bride's traveling outfit was a smart old gold suit with navy blue accessories.

LITTLE-BORMAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized Wednesday evening at 8 in the vestry of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, when Rev. J. L. W. McLean united in marriage Ellen Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Dorman, MacKenzie Avenue, and Mr. Victor James Little, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. James Little, 2017 Quadra Street.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a gown of white satin fashioned in princess style with long pointed sleeves. Clusters of orange blossom held her hip-length veil in place and she carried a Colonial bouquet of Ophelia roses, gardenias, white carnations and white heather. Mrs. George Rice was matron of honor and chose a gown of aqua blue jersey silk with a small matching hat and veil, and her bouquet was of salmon pink carnations and roses. Mr. George Rice was groomsmen.

A small reception was held at the Royal Oak Inn, where Mrs.

Dorman welcomed the guests, wearing a beige redingote with a light blue hat and a corsage bouquet of red roses, assisted by Mrs. Little who wore a powder blue jacket dress with black accessories and yellow roses. The three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride after the toast had been proposed by Dr. Stanley Miles.

The bride's traveling outfit was a green dress, a beige cashmere coat trimmed with a fox collar, brown hat and lizard accessories, with a corsage bouquet of gardenias and white heather.

The face masks worn by navy men exposed to cold and stormy weather of the North Atlantic are made of wool felt.

W.C.T.U. Convention Meets on Mainland

A number of Victoria delegates are attending the 59th annual convention of the Women's Christian Temperance Union, being held in West Point Grey United Church this week. Mrs. James Gray, provincial president, is presiding at the sessions.

At the opening session Tuesday, Mrs. A. Cantell conducted the opening devotional period on "Prayer and Its Educational Value in Our Times." After the solemn presentation of flags the pledge of loyalty was recited in unison.

The secretary reported a large increase in membership, mainly owing to the visits of the president throughout the province. Mrs. Gray had spoken at 84 meetings.

The treasurer, Mrs. John Macpherson, brought in the financial report showing increased givings. Mrs. Wm. Russell, secretary of the provincial W.C.T.U. home in Victoria, for friendless women and girls, read her report showing the need for such an institution.

The supper meeting was conducted by the young women, when greetings were presented by church organizations, Roman Catholic and Protestant, Y.W.C.A. and Y.M.C.A.

Social and Personal

Miss Joan Hallett, whose marriage to Mr. Frank L. Howard will take place shortly in Vancouver, left Wednesday evening for the mainland city.

A handsome tri-lite lamp was received by Miss Little on behalf of the guests present. The tea table was attractively arranged with pink tapers and a bowl of pink cosmos. Other guests included Mesdames T. Jarvis, H. Fielder, M. W. Crisp, M. Prescott, E. Collis, Crookford, R. T. Elliott, D. Mout and the Misses Patsy Ashmore and Edna Fielder.

Miss Roberta Swan, whose marriage to Mr. Andrew Knowles will take place shortly, was guest of honor Wednesday evening at a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. R. W. Knowles at her home, 1131 Oscar Street. Corsage bouquets of rosebuds, stocks, scabiosa and heather were presented to the bride-to-be, her mother, Mrs. A. W. Games were played during the evening, the prizewinners being Mrs. G. Aaronson, Mrs. G. Scott and Miss Eileen James. Other guests included: Mesdames W. James, M. Maas, D. Morley, F. D. Shore, R. A. Semple, P. J. Salamon, H. Rogers, E. 5343.

Weddings

A wedding of interest to friends of the young couple in Victoria, took place Wednesday morning at 12.30 in St. Paul's Church, Nanaimo, between Catherine Elizabeth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Chrysler, New Westminster, and Lieut. F. G. Smith, R.C.A., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Smith, 1382 Begbie Street, Victoria. Rev. W. C. Western, D.D., performed the ceremony amidst a profusion of fall flowers. Mrs. V. Palmer played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. A. T. W. Paul, the bride wore a street-length orchid dress with beige felt hat and matching accessories, a corsage bouquet of orchids and lily of the valley. Mrs. F. J. Clarke, Victoria, a s-matron-of-honor, chose a turquoise street-length jersey dress with black hat and accessories and a corsage bouquet of Talsman roses. Sgt. D. Bray, Victoria, was groomsmen, and Lieut. D. Muir, Victoria, acted as usher.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. T. W. Paul, where the rooms were decorated with masses of autumn flowers. Mrs. Chrysler received, wearing navy blue sheer over figured taffeta, with a dusky rose felt hat and contrasting accessories, assisted by Mrs. Smith, who wore a French blue crepe redingote, with a black picture hat, and matching accessories. Both wore corsage bouquets of peach gladioli. The bride's cake centred the table, which was arranged with flowers.

On their return from a honeymoon spent on the mainland, Lieut. and Mrs. Smith will reside at 1325 Stanley Avenue, Victoria. For traveling, the bride wore a fine green dressmaker suit with carriage pleating on the jacket, a beige topcoat and accessories. Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mrs. T. Patterson, New Westminster; Miss F. Smith, Mr. R. Smith, Mrs. J. B. Smith, Mrs. G. MacLean, Mr. and Mrs. D. Muir, Victoria, and Miss E. Bryant, Vancouver.

Soviet Woman Sniper In Grim Rebuke to Silly Questioners

NEW YORK (AP)—Lieut. Liudmila Pavlichenko, Russian woman sniper credited with killing 309 Nazis, declared today that "it is plain to see that with American women what is important is whether they wear silk underwear under their uniforms."

She added grimly: "What the uniform stands for, they have yet to learn."

In an interview given Allice Hughes, radio commentator, at the Soviet Consulate here, the lieutenant said that she had been amazed by "the silly questions asked me in America."

"One woman even criticized the length of the skirt of my uniform, saying that in America women wear shorter skirts and besides my uniform made me look fat," she added. "This made me angry. I wear my uniform with honor. It has the order of Lenin on it. It has been covered with blood in battle."

Island Temple, Pythian Sisters, met with Mrs. Lorna Evans presiding. The visiting committee reported on visits made to the sick. A committee was appointed to send Christmas parcels to members serving in the armed forces overseas. To raise funds for this purpose a card party will be held after the next meeting, Thursday, Sept. 24. A new member was initiated during the evening. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Peck and her committee, each member bringing tea and sugar.

Court Declines Blanket Decision

Circumstances in each particular case will determine the meaning of the Criminal Code section dealing with "knowledge and consent" in cases of illegal possession of narcotics, Gordon-S. Wiener, K.C.,* was told in Court Appeal today.

Appearing for the crown applicant in the appeal against Magistrate H. S. Wood's dismissal of possession charges against Robert Colvin and Collin Gladu, Mr. Wismer had asked for a definition of that section.

He wished it, he said, to clarify the position of people assembled in a small room where they knew narcotics were illegally in the possession of some individual. The relevant section of the code, he contended, placed such persons in the position of those having knowledge and consent and made them guilty of possession.

Specially, he argued on the case in which one accused, an East Indian, Hermann Singh, had pleaded guilty to having murdered a woman on a telephone, while the two other accused, Colvin and Gladue, were "hanging around the room" where a hypodermic needle was found and a mess of poppy heads brewed on the stove.

The trial judge declined to accept their story they were innocent they were looking for a job from the East Indian, but cited cases to indicate he was bound

Ontario Infantry Battalion Keen, Fit, Ready to Fight

Bren gun carriers come tearing their way through trees and negotiate a deep ditch at speed.

By A. M. THOMAS
A WEST COAST VANCOUVER ISLAND ARMY CAMP—If, as he said on his arrival here a week ago, Maj. Gen. C. R. Pearkes, V.C., head of all armed forces on this coast, wants "stout-hearted men, well-trained tactically and in the use of weapons and physically fit to withstand privation," he will find them here, not 50 miles up from Victoria.

The regiment manning this camp must remain anonymous, but it can be said that its members hail from western Ontario, from London in particular.

Their stout hearts can be taken for granted on strength of the facts that call for volunteers for dangerous duties, one for example to take paratroop training in the United States, another to fill a substantial draft for overseas, found, in financial parlance, the issue heavily oversubscribed, resulting in much difficulty in selecting the best volunteers and much heartburning among those rejected.

Their tactical training is practical; they carry out manoeuvres in this heart-breaking rough country against "enemies" who have landed, while their commanding officer takes to the air with the co-operation of the R.C.A.F. to watch them battle from 1,000 feet up.

As to weapons, they are outfitted with everything that modern machinery can provide to an extent that should effectively silence the storm of parliamentary criticism that arose last year when it was charged that troops here were armed with antiquated, or no, rifles and no supplementary weapons, and constant practice and drill has made these western Ontarians able to use them with the speed and facility of war-hardened veterans.

Physical Jerks Start Day Right

Physical jerks, from which no one is exempted, are held at 6.15, just a quarter of an hour after the men get up and start a day in which they use every muscle known to anatomists.

Normal living conditions in the camp which was originally constructed as a relief camp before the war, can hardly be said to approach privation, but the regimen are stiff enough to build up a hardy group that, if privation comes, will give its members a better than even chance of surviving.

Gen. Pearkes was welcomed at the camp when he arrived there recently for an initial inspection, and while his reactions are not available for publication, it can be safely assumed they were satisfactory.

"Collective training and tactical schemes" is the official title for some of the war-like manoeuvres the regiment undertakes regularly to fit it for what the G.O.C. referred to as "the inevitable day" when troops on this coast go into action.

They are carefully planned and sprung as a surprise as a test of alertness. Every man knows his job and tactics are carried out as though there were actually an enemy approaching after having effected a landing.

One thing the men discovered was that mechanized equipment is of little use in thick bush country. As part of one manoeuvre I saw here recently, two Bren gun carriers were sent out to scout for a small party of "Japs." Contact was made, reports turned in to headquarters and the carriers sent back to see what damage they could inflict. The two fast, armored vehicles lumbered down the trail ready for action but no "Japs" were visible. Suddenly from behind trees and bushes white flour bags started to plop against the carriers. The flour bags represented bombs and had they been the real thing, would have blown their targets to pieces together with their occupants.

Tanks Knocked Out By Hidden Troops

For good measure a solitary "Jap" well camouflaged, hopped out from behind a bush, thrust his rifle into the leading carrier and let go a couple of blank cartridges at point-blank range.

When the day's action was summed up back at headquarters it was discovered there were only six men in the party of "Japs" armed with rifles and hand grenades. They had effectively put out of action two heavily-armored, well-armed Bren gun carriers without lost to themselves.

One thing the incident accomplished was to teach these men the efficacy of surprise and concealment and the vulnerability of armored unit to these elements when they are backed by resource and determination.

It has been observed that carriers, tanks and other vehicles cannot operate in thick bush country but that, from a demonstration these Ontarians staged and in which they took me over the country, first in a jeep and then in a Bren gun carrier, this is apparently the only limitation that can be put on their capabilities.

The "jeep," that flat-topped little car that inexplicably arouses amusement in civilians as it careens through city streets is an engineering marvel. The pictures on this page give only a slight idea of the terrain over which they can operate at speed and no impression whatever of their safety and comparative comfort.

Equipped with four-wheel drive, mounted on springs as limber as a whalebone and with a high clearance, the jeep in which I rode with Major J. W. Martin, the regiment's second in command, and Lieut. C. E. Watson, went through thick, fern-like growths, sped along sidehills tilted at an angle of more than 60 degrees from the horizontal and jounced in and out of declivities in the ground that seemed to be several feet in depth. One of its marvels is the narrow space through which it can negotiate.

A heavy truck was parked, seemingly close to a barbed-wire fence and we took a run at the gap between them. I threw my hands up expecting either a strand of barbed-wire or a truck fender around my face. We slipped through with perhaps an inch to spare on either side. Incidentally a jeep can make better than 60 miles an hour.

The Bren gun carrier ride was another story. In the jeep, however much we were thrown around, there was no shock on recovering equilibrium. No such comfort ruled in the caterpillar carrier. She started with a jerk as we hung on, and effected the first turn by spinning sickeningly on her axis to shoot off in a new direction. We met a deep, narrow ditch and without slackening speed the caterpillars rumbled down and across throwing us forward and backward in quick succession; but we were over and making for a clump of trees.

A small tree up to four or five inches in diameter at the base will not stop a Bren gun carrier. While the weight of her powerful engines is bearing against the tree she will slow up, even stop for a few seconds but with a grim inevitableness the tree will be shorn off at the base and topple backward over the carrier as she rumbles on.

Once a stock and bond broker in London, Ont., now the skipper of this smart infantry battalion with two of his "boys" Lieut's. C. E. Watson of Niagara Falls, Ont., left, and A. C. Keene of London, Ont.

Light bush country and terrain are no obstacle to this "jeep" as it comes through thick ferns and a steep hill at more than 30 m.p.h.

R.S.M. B. Huxellon, top noncommissioned officer, tempers his admonitions with a wisecrack. A family man with two children in Toronto he was a bakery driver and salesman before the war.

We return to camp with a fixed determination to buy a jeep when the war is over and are taken on a tour of the training squads.

Unlike the infantry unit in the last war, those of the present day have a sufficient variety of weapons and equipment to wage a little war of their own.

We saw a mortar section of one platoon drilling with three-inch mortars and live ammunition. Fast-firing, accurate as to range-finding and aim with a substantial field of fire the mortars throw a fish-tailed bomb that explodes on contact and scatters a deadly hail of steel for a radius of 100 feet. The section of men I saw went through their routine of firing with the slickness and perfection of technique one sees in the swing of a professional golfer. They talk affectionately of their mortars and give the impression that they will go into action with complete confidence that their ordnance department has done all that is humanly possible to make them better equipped than any enemy they are likely to meet.

It was the same with squads drilling and practicing with the two-inch mortars, the long-barreled anti-tank rifles and the Bren and tommy guns.

This Western Ontario unit is typical of Canada's citizen army of today.

Civilians not long ago, most of them without a military thought in their heads, the battalion is now composed of hardened soldiers equal to the best professionals, proud of their prowess in training, genuinely eager to get into actual fighting and confident in their officers and the country behind them.

The commander, Lt. Col. R. H. Beattie, M.C., is a veteran of 1914-18 who retained his connection with the army via a commission in the militia which he relinquished four years ago, and took up again when the war broke out. In civil life he is connected with a brokerage house.

Other officers in the unit were in the furniture business, clerks, salesmen, while many of the men in the ranks were farmers, others filling such posts as bakery drivers, mechanics, advertising clerks, mail carriers and just plain laborers. But now they are soldiers; civilian interests have been forgotten and a visit to the camp leaves one with the impression that soldiering is the one interest that will fill their lives until the war is over; and that is the kind of thing that will end the war sooner than any other factor in our war effort.

WAR WOKE US UP

—to need of more VITAMIN B-COMPLEX
in foods we bake with white flour

UNTIL recently, white flour foods held very little of the vitamin B that nature stores in golden grain. Because in milling patent white flour, the parts of the kernel that are rich in vitamins were mostly lost.

Came the war—and with it, the government's insistence that every Canadian should get a full quota of vitamin B-complex every day in foods baked with white flour.

To meet this need our new Kitchen Craft Vitamin B White Flour (Canada approved) was developed. This flour contains five times as much vitamin B<sub>1</sub> (thiamin) as pre-war white flours. Each pound holds not less than 400 International units of vitamin B<sub>1</sub>.

You also get more of all the rest of the important vitamin B-complex in this flour. More riboflavin. More niacin. More real nutrition than white flour ever offered you before.

Best of all, you'll find Kitchen Craft Vitamin B White Flour will actually improve your bakings! Its natural wheat content gives breads, pies and cakes a delicate creamy-whiteness. And a most delicious wheaty flavor!

Try Kitchen Craft Vitamin B White Flour, now preferred by thousands. It is milled in Canada and is the best quality of all-purpose, home-type flour. Guaranteed to give you excellent results in all your regular white flour recipes—or money back.

VITAMIN B-COMPLEX is concentrated in the germ and certain layers of the whole wheat kernel. Yet these parts, rich in vitamins, were largely removed in milling former white flours. "Cold Roll Milling" retains most of the vitamin B-complex found in these parts. So the new Kitchen Craft Vitamin B White Flour gives you 5 times more vitamin B<sub>1</sub> than pre-war patent white flours!

Local Airwoman
On Secret, Vital
Job in Britain

OTTAWA (CP)—Trained to work in the R.C.A.F. operation rooms where bombing raids are planned, and enemy movements charted, the first contingent of the Women's Division, R.C.A.F. to arrive in Britain landed recently "ready and eager to tackle one of the most secret and vital jobs open to women in this war," according to word reaching R.C.A.F. headquarters here.

Five had received preliminary training at Western Air Command headquarters at Victoria, while five others had done similar work at Eastern Air Command in Halifax. All had taken a secret course in operation work in New York, at the New York School of Information's first aircraft warning service.

So sudden was their departure that none of the girls stationed in the west had time for embarkation leave. With only 24 hours' notice, they were off to an eastern Canadian port to join the first group of R.C.A.F. women ever to go to Great Britain. They were Cpls. Anne B. Evans, Edmonton, and Joan Tallyour, Toronto, and Leading Airwomen Kythe Mackenzie, Victoria; Muriel Scott, Unity, Sask., and Shirley Jackson, Winnipeg.

Cats in Chinatown
In Bad Condition

The condition of cats in Chinatown is bad, the inspector of the S.P.C.A. reported at the monthly meeting of the society. Large numbers of the animals are badly diseased, he said. The inspector, in answer to a call, found there a batch of live kittens in a garbage can in which were ashes and tea leaves.

The S.P.C.A. last month found homes for eight dogs and seven cats and painlessly killed 57 cats. The society urges all dog owners to place a tag on their dogs, bearing the telephone number, thus greatly assisting the inspector in returning lost dogs and in identifying those that are injured.

At the close of the business meeting the second chapter in the cultural program "Beauty" entitled "Painting the Person" was conducted by Barbara Dawson, who ably traced this art from the early primitive days down to the present use of cosmetics. The meeting adjourned with the closing ritual.

Mrs. James Baker, regent of Florence Nightingale Chapter, I.O.D.E., was welcomed back after her long absence, and took the chair at a meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the headquarters. Allied Bombers
Plaster Bengasi

CAIRO (AP)—Allied heavy bombers made a daylight attack Wednesday on the Axis supply port of Bengasi, more than 500 miles west of the Egyptian battlefront, scoring hits on two ships and setting one on fire, a British communique announced today.

At the same time, the bulletin said, British fighters were active over the battle area, shooting down at least two enemy aircraft and damaging many others. One British plane was lost.

The previous night Tobruk, also a vital Axis supply port, was blasted by heavy bombers.

There have been no activities on the land front except for patrol skirmishes and artillery exchanges, the communique said.

ITALY LOSES SUB
ROME (From Italian Broadcasts, AP)—The Italian high command announced today that an Italian submarine has been lost in war operations.

"Enemy planes dropped a great number of high explosive and incendiary bombs on the town of Bengasi, causing limited damage to some houses," the high command said.

Three persons were reported killed and several wounded.

Axis fighter planes and anti-aircraft shells were claimed to have shot down seven British fighters.

Convention Backs
Postwar Blueprint

KAMLOOPS (CP)—A blueprint for postwar guidance involving radical changes in the economic life of Canada, including federal control of national finance, free medical and dental care, a government-guaranteed minimum price for farm products, a national minimum wage and many other suggestions was adopted in principle Wednesday by the annual convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities.

The "blueprint" was in the form of a report of a special rehabilitation committee under the chairmanship of Alderman O. L. Jones of Kelowna and it did not pass unquestioned. Some spoke against and many spoke for the report and it was adopted in principle after a debate of more than half an hour.

The Japanese question cropped up again in the convention which had endorsed a resolution calling for the repatriation of all Japanese at the end of the war and the sale of all Japanese-owned land.

JAP SITUATION SERIOUS

A Kelowna delegate doubted if the seriousness of the situation was realized, and he presented a resolution which urged that Japanese be placed under military control upon completion of their removal from the "protected areas", that they be moved east of the Rocky Mountains or to places where the security of the country would be assured, and that Japanese labor be used for the furtherance of Canada's war effort as far as possible.

Mayor G. Williams of Kamloops told of Japanese purchases of land in the Kamloops district, contrary to a federal order-in-council. He also referred to the fact that the Japanese east of Hope may have guns, cars and radios, which are prohibited west of Hope—a statement which surprised many coast delegates.

The mayor warned that the Japanese problem was not solved with the removal of Japanese from Vancouver and said that if communication lines were cut the coast would be isolated.

OFFICERS NAMED

Alderman C. E. Scanlon of Kamloops was elected president of the union succeeding Reeve R. M. Grauer of Richmond municipality.

Mayor V. B. Harrison of Nanaimo was chosen first vice-president and Alderman John Bennett of Vancouver second vice-president. R. R. F. Sewell of Victoria was re-elected secretary-treasurer for his 14th term, and H. J. Sullivan, K.C., of New Westminster, was retained as union solicitor.

The executive elected includes: Alderman O. L. Jones, Kelowna; Mayor W. C. Hamilton, Port Alberni; Reeve Sol Mussalem, Maple Ridge; Municipal Clerk R. P. Blandy, Oak Bay; Reeve J. T. Brown, Surrey; Mayor N. C. Stibbs, Nelson; Alderman George C. Miller, Vancouver; Mayor Andrew McGavin, Victoria, and Commissioner C. A. D. McRae, Mission, representing the villages.

Port Alberni was chosen as the site of the 1943 convention, subject to the approval of the executive.

CONDEMN PROSTITUTION
The convention heard an address by Dr. Donald H. Williams, director of venereal disease control for the Provincial Board of Health. Dr. Williams said that since reduction of the "red light district" in Vancouver, the prevalence of venereal disease in the city had been reduced by 50 per cent and urged the municipal delegates to do all in their power to meet the threat of venereal disease in their home communities.

The convention duly passed a resolution against the prevalence of prostitution in the cities and towns of British Columbia and agreed to put before the school trustees' association, a brief outlining the dangers of venereal disease.

Wednesday's sessions ended the three-day convention.

TOOTH PASTE ORDER
Exempts Services
Citizens are no longer able to buy shaving cream or toothpaste unless empty tubes are returned, but an exception has been made for members of the armed forces.

Administrator of used goods, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, says that gift kits, of which the shaving cream and toothpaste tubes represent more than 25 per cent of the total retail value of the kit, may still be sold without receiving a used collapsible tube. Such sales, however, may be made only on the condition that the kit is mailed direct by the retailer to members of the armed forces.

All Must Help, Says Premier

When Miss Canada called on Premier Hart in his office she was accorded a sincere welcome and received the best wishes of British Columbia's first citizen. In discussing the importance of savings for victory, Premier Hart said:

"Although the new income tax, together with its compulsory saving feature, may seem burdensome, this is no time for us to withdraw the support we have been giving in the past to the nation's war effort by our investments in war savings certificates and victory bonds. The fact that it has been necessary for the Dominion government to impose harsher measures upon the taxpayer should make it obvious to us all that there is even greater need for us to dig still deeper and support wartime investments."

"Unless the money is raised to provide weapons with which to equip our divisions overseas and our men enlisted in home defence, we cannot hope to win the war. The sacrifices we are being asked to make are as nothing compared to those sacrifices forced upon the people living under dictatorship."

"No matter what demands are placed upon us by the Dominion government, it is our duty as loyal citizens to rally to the support of undertakings devised by the government to further the war effort."

"I may add that money set aside in these days may do much to alleviate the situation after the close of the war, when money will be needed to readjust industries and general war economy to a peacetime basis and to carry out construction and other projects that have been retarded by the war."

I would, therefore, urge every citizen to invest all that he can in Canada's war effort, either by way of war savings certificates or by the purchase of victory bonds."

Red Cross Notes

NORTH SAANICH UNIT

The North Saanich Unit opened their winter season with a movie show at the Experimental Farm Pavilion on Tuesday evening. A series of sound pictures shown by the kindness of MacKay Smith Blair and Co. were much enjoyed by a large gathering and Red Cross funds benefited to the extent of $25.

Mrs. J. J. White was presented with the badge of honorary membership in the national society, which was conferred upon her at the National Red Cross Council meeting last April. In presenting the medal F. W. Jones, vice-president of the Victoria and District branch and one of its charter members, outlined the origin of this distinction and stated that with the splendid work which Mrs. White was doing at the present time and had also done during the last war, this honor was most richly deserved. Congratulating the recipient he said that her example and leadership were largely responsible for the outstanding contribution of the North Saanich Unit.

F. J. Baker, president of the unit, expressed his pleasure and thanked Mrs. White and all her helpers for their good work. He appealed to all, both young and old to work harder than ever. Representatives of branch headquarters also included Mrs. J. L. Grimison, Stewart Clark and the honorary secretary, Lt. Col. R. S. Worsley. Mr. Clark gave a description of one of the "survivors kits" which were being supplied to all naval vessels on this coast for use in case of necessity.

Plans for Better Parenthood Week, Oct. 4 to 11, were discussed. The highlight of the program will be the lecture Wednesday, Oct. 7, by Dr. Katherine Whiteside Taylor, consultant in family relations for the Seattle Public Schools. Her lecture will follow the lines of the work she has been doing in Seattle. Mrs. H. A. Beckwith announced that plans were being drawn up for a series of weekly radio programs during the school term. The association supported the move of the Victoria City Council in asking for permission to prohibit these machines.

'Canadians Must Give All'—Isley

No Time for Bargains;
Finance Minister Warns

SEIGNIORY CLUB, Que. (CP)

Difficulties in maintaining ceilings on wages and prices and the duties of the Wartime Information Board were outlined to newspaper publishers and advertising men at a joint meeting of the directors of the Canadian Press and the Canadian Daily Newspapers' Association here Wednesday. Finance Minister Isley and Charles Vining, newly-appointed chief of the information board, were the speakers.

Mr. Isley said the press had an important role to play in winning the war, "which is not an ordinary war, but the most important of all wars." It is up to the press to guide the people to the end that will do most good.

"The struggle to hold ceilings on wages and prices is becoming harder and harder every day," he said. "It is extremely important to hold those ceilings, especially now that the United States has adopted measures which were aimed to help us."

"We are well pleased with results so far," he added. "When the ceilings were first thought up, and introduced, no one, including myself, thought they would work. Such a move had never before been attempted in a democratic country."

Mr. Isley said it was discouraging for him to hear that some people in Canada are not doing their utmost for the country's war effort at a time when "our men and the men of our Allies are giving their lives by the thousands, by the hundreds of thousands without a thought of the sacrifice."

"I don't like to hear someone say he is not going to produce all he can because there is not enough in it for him. I don't like to hear those who say they won't buy bonds and stamps because we won't do what they want us to do. There is no time for self-consideration, for striking up a bargain."

FUNDAMENTAL

Mr. Vining said newspapers are a fundamental weapon in the war and "it would be folly on our part to attempt to weaken that weapon." It may be necessary for the board to "burglarize" men from newspapers to help in the job.

The deciding factor in winning or losing the war might be the state of mind of the people on the North American continent, he said. "If we do come to that stage, it may be the spirit of the people that will tip the scales in favor of victory."

"I do not look upon information as anything more artful and clever than a continued flow of daily news. As far as my new work is concerned, it is to assist in the flow of news."

The board is primarily to act as a representative of war departments and certain members of the board will act as personal representatives of certain ministers.

"Our first efforts must start at home and the first place is Ottawa."

ST. ANDREW'S Y.P.S.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S. met Monday evening. A brief devotional period was conducted by Nancy Cameron, assisted by Joan Lawrence. Margaret Gray, vice-president, presided. The resignation of Ethel Wilson as president was received with regret, and Marjorie Kennedy was elected to fill this office. The attention of members was drawn to the annual Y.P.S. convention in Vancouver on Oct. 10, 11 and 12 at Central Church. During the evening Rev. J. L. W. McLean, on behalf of the society presented Miss Ann Arlow with a wallet, on the occasion of her leaving to join the women's division of the Royal Canadian Air Force. After a ping-pong tournament, refreshments were served, and following this a wedding gift was presented to Miss Ella Wiltshire, whose marriage takes place soon. On Sunday at the evening church service, Rev. J. L. W. McLean will install the members of the Y.P.S. executive. Following the service a young people's fellowship hour will be held at which all young people are invited to be present.

AT THE WILLOWS track are a couple of thoroughbreds who every time they go the starting gate stand a good chance of winding up with a brand new owner. As a matter of fact the pair, Hoops My Dear and Beauty Warm, have hardly been able to get comfortably settled in a stall all season when they have been forced to move house.

Beauty Warm, six-year-old brown mare, by Dolan out of Cariboo Lass, started off the season under the ownership of the West Brothers, who had claimed her from Dave Diamond near the close of last season. The mare was first claimed by Mrs. A. E. Forshaw. She then went back to the barns of the West Brothers only to be claimed by H. J. Fisher. Her next and present owner was H. J. Percy, making four claims in all during the present campaign. Hoops My Dear has been claimed three times during the summer. The four-year-old chestnut filly was brought west by the Whittier Park Stock Farm of Winnipeg, but soon after racing opened she was taken over by Mrs. L. Johnson. A. D. Patterson was her next owner and last Saturday she was claimed by J. F. Neel. With the end of the racing drawing near it is just possible the two bang-tails will remain put for this season.

For the benefit of those race fans interested in track records here are the best times turned in for various distances at the Willows strip:

Stukus in Odd Setting

By SCOTT YOUNG

TORONTO (CP)—The word Annis Stukus will coach Toronto Oakwood backfielders in the Ontario Rugby Football Union's senior group this season is almost too much for most of us to bear.

This large and loquacious member of the Lithuanian family is a refreshing type of athlete. He is one of Canada's best backfielders, but only the public takes him seriously. Stukus himself can't be bothered.

He was one of the few on Lew Hayman's Toronto Argos who didn't go for Hayman's famous fire-talks—words that always made rookie backs steam with anxiety and sent even some veterans into the fray anesthetized against any sensation but the game ahead. Stukus never steamed. He never was anesthetized. He often wise-cracked the spell away, and Hayman resented that plenty.

Stukus is Canadian football's sage of the drawing rooms. He is something of an actor in this regard. He is big-boned, big-muscled. He looks like the movie conception of the halfback who runs the wrong way on the crucial touchdown play. He knows this, and acts it out. He gives his audiences, which are always large, and largely female, what they expect—serious discourses on how good he is. He gives them the works in rugged English, and they love it.

WILL PLAY PART

I refuse even to attempt to imagine Stukus giving his Oakwood a pep-talk, although they'll probably need plenty, plus a Bren gun, brass knucks and blackjacks to get anywhere in the O.R.F.U. But I can see him now in a throng of rapt women, playing the part of the studious, but maligned coach; giving them the wherefores of that important play, and lurid background on the perditionous opposition.

Escapes From Bean Ball

Babe Young of New York Giants hits dirt with considerable alacrity as Kirby Higbe of Brooklyn fires a high, inside fast one. Dodger catcher is Mickey Owen, Umpire George Magerkurth.

Dodgers, Cards Win Former Face Task

Ferdinand, "The Figger Flibbert," popped out of his hole today, right smack into the National League baseball party, and threw a scare into the folks in Brooklyn.

Ferdinand, in case you've forgotten him, is the little guy with an adding machine for a head and a percentage table for a heart, and when he starts counting.

The way Ferdie has it figured out right now, what with St. Louis Cardinals two games in front of the Bums, and moving right along, the layout looks tough for the Dodgers.

Naturally, you will point out that the Brooklyn broke out of their hitting slump Wednesday. They turned loose a 19-hit bombardment that tore the feeble Pittsburgh Pirates apart 10 to 3 and ended their five-game losing streak in a game marked by a brawl in the stands among some fans, a couple of ushers and Dixie Walker and Mickey Owen. No one was "bolted."

But the Cards bowled over Boston's no-so-Braves 6 to 2 at the same time, and are still in there winning.

And those festivities caused Ferdinand to point out that if the Cardinals should lose even four of their remaining nine games, the Dodgers would have to take nine of 11 to win. Or, the Cards can even go under the .500 mark—say win four and lose five—and in that case, the Dodgers would have to grab eight and lose only three. And if the sons of St. Louis should fall apart and drop six out of nine, Durocher's darlings still would need seven of 11 to come home on the bandwagon.

REALLY SWINGING

However, the Dodgers still are better than a 100-to-1 shot. Certainly, the manner in which they came back after their two days in drydock for repairs did them no harm. It is true they did not look at any pitching that might be called classy, but they were swinging as though a Cardinal's face was painted on every ball. Dolph Camilli connected for two homers and two singles and knocked five runs in for the brass-ring job, and everyone in the line-up collected at least one hit during the afternoon to back up Whit Wyatt's steady elbowing.

Meantime, the Cards combed Jim Tobin for only nine hits, but they put five of them together for a winning four-run rally in the sixth. Ernie White didn't need much to work on, and for a guy who's been talking lately about a sore arm, the southpaw looked about as injured as Whirlaway.

The pitching job of the day was turned in by Maiv Breur in twirling New York Yankees to a 5 to 1 decision over Detroit Tigers. For seven innings he had a no-hitter and he wound up by giving up only two for the afternoon.

Paul Derringer also tossed a four-hitter that gave Cincinnati Reds a 3 to 1 decision over the New York Giants.

Just in case you're interested, Chicago Cubs climbed over the Pirates into the National League's fifth place by splitting a twin bill with the Phillies, losing the first 3 to 1 to Johnny Podgajny and taking the nightcap 4 to 1 behind Herman Bithorn.

COAST LEAGUE

The disconsolate Sacramento Solons of the Coast League get their last chance to redeem themselves with the home folks today and retain even a mathematical chance of snatching the championship from Los Angeles.

The Angels tapped five Sen-series at Sacramento. The victory placed the southerners four games ahead of Pepper Martin's lads with only five games remaining.

Elsewhere in the league San Diego took a doubleheader from San Francisco 4 to 0 and 5 to 0, thus lacking only one game of making its upper division spot safe from the Seals. Portland used four first inning hits for two runs which were enough to beat Hollywood 2 to 1, and wild pitching sent Seattle down to defeat by Oakland 7 to 2.

Borden Ball Has Many Devotees

HALIFAX (CP)—It's something new under the sport sun, this game of Borden ball, and anyone who likes basketball, football, soccer, hockey or tidley winks will like it too.

Brain-child of Flt.-Lt. A. G. Ley of Port Arthur and Port Colborne, Ont., chief auxiliary officer for the eastern air command here, the new sport was first introduced at Camp Borden, Ont., hence its name.

Virtue of the game is the little equipment it takes. Dig out a couple of old hockey nets—or make wooden boxes the same shape and size—and one Canadian rugby football, mix with six players to a side and you are all set.

What you need to complete the game is a space approximately the same as a regulation ice surface. You can play on a field, a rink or on the cement floor of a hangar or drill hall.

Each side has six men—a goalie, two defence men and three forwards.

FAST PASSING

No man can hold the ball for more than three seconds without passing, and no man can take more than three steps without getting rid of the leather. It is probably developing into the fastest passing game in the world.

Object of the game, as in soccer, is to throw that hunk of cowhide and wind between the uprights.

You have to have a lot of wind and stamina to get it there though. Flt.-Lt. Ley says the toughest athletes fold after five minutes of Borden ball and have to be replaced.

Athletes Help To Keep Morale

OTTAWA (CP)—Behind the decision to give the go-ahead signal to wartime professional sport in Canada and the United States is the belief of manpower authorities that athletes can—and do—play a big part in maintaining morale.

Elliott M. Little, director of National Selective Service, made that clear Wednesday in a one-paragraph statement relayed to the press by a member of his staff.

He was talking specifically about the National Hockey League, now making plans to function in its fourth season of wartime hockey.

This is what he said: "The number of men involved is so small that it is not considered desirable to destroy the existing media of relaxation through which hundreds of people—many of them war workers—find enjoyment which permits them to contribute their maximum to production while they are on the job."

PASSPORT PROBLEM

So far officials have failed to clear up one angle of the hockey picture for next winter—whether passports will be issued to players of military age.

The military call-up rules provide that single men 20 to 45 inclusive must apply to war services boards for permission to leave the country. In 1941-42 some regional boards granted permission on condition a player agreed to return to Canada at once if called for service. Others, however, refused.

Again this year chairmen of regional boards have the say whether such men can leave the country to play in the United States. Their individual stands haven't been made known yet.

R.A.F. Cricketers Win Final Match

In what was likely the final mid-week match of the season, R.A.F. cricketers Wednesday defeated Spencers, 130 to 88.

Going to bat first the Fliers opened strongly with their first three men at the wickets contributing 87 runs. Pulford and Woodbridge, the opening pair, put on 30 and 14 respectively. Webb followed with a smart 43. Four members of Spencers' side, Erickson, Nixon, Shrimpton and Oakman, scored in double

Drift On Sets Second Mark Of Meeting

Disqualification, track record, longest win price of the meeting to date and domination of the favorites and second choices in five out of the seven races provided a carload of excitement for the half-holiday crowd of 3,500 at the Willows track Wednesday afternoon. Betting was brisk and showed an increase over the same day last year. It was the fourth straight day the mutual handle has been up.

Big doings in the afternoon came in the sixth race. After Jack Iaci's black colt Ronrico had taken a close call over Flying Heir and Streakworth, pre-race steward W. J. McKee ruled the winner disqualified and placed last. Flying Heir was moved up to the winner's circle, with the favored Streakworth taking second money and H. Rhythm, which ran fourth, taking third.

Trouble resulted as the horses galloped into the far turn. Ronrico had set all the early pace, and as Streakworth charged at the leader, on the outside, he suddenly stopped and dropped back. After hitting the stretch, Streakworth came on again, but took third behind Ronrico and Flying Heir.

LAYS PROTEST

Jockey Augie Sylvester, up on Streakworth, laid a protest, charging that Jockey R. Nielson on Ronrico had "hooked" him as he attempted to take his mount to the top. Sylvester's charge was confirmed by patrol judge Norman Drysdale. McKee immediately disqualified Ronrico and ordered Nielson off Jelsweep in the seventh race.

Double T Stable's seven-year-old brown mare, Drift On, sliced two-fifths of a second off the track record for the mile and one eighth, in capturing the fourth. The public choice was the best all the way, charging to the front from the gate and never looking back. The time was 1:53, as compared to the track mark of 1:53 2-5, held jointly by Sunny Park and Grice. It was the second record set up at the track this meeting. Killarney L shattering the mile standard last Saturday. Drift On paid $5.50, $3.20 and $2.70.

Camp Spur registered his second victory in as many days by taking the third from the favored Broderick by half a length. Broderick closed strongly in the final drive, but Camp Spur hung on gamely to make it two in a row. Britannia had plenty at the finish to take third money. Camp Spur, partnered with the favored Proud Time in the second, returned a daily double of $30.25. Longest win price so far was seen in the fifth when the five-year-old chestnut horse, Avondale King, popped down to return $32.45, $16.85 and $8.70. Golden Belt went to the post favorite at 2 to 1. Entering the back stretch in the mile event, Khayyam took over the lead, with Avondale King on the outside. The winner took over at the head of the stretch and was the victor by a length over Khayyam, with Eagle Crest third. The one-two was worth a cool $130.40.

Running like the good thing the public figured, Simony's Boy took over in the backstretch and was never challenged the rest of the route. Hasty Day ran second, with Stokesley third.

In the seventh, another favorite, Proud Harry, set all the pace, to win as he pleased, with Tellus second, and Jelsweep third. The one-two paid off at $40.75.

Alex Haller was the only rider able to get down with more than one winner, scoring a double on Avondale King and Flying Heir. (See Form Chart Page 8) figures, but the remainder of the team went out cheaply.

Woodbridge led the R.A.F. bowlers with four wickets for 20 runs and George Gardiner was tops for the losers with the same number of wickets for 23.

Organize Hockey League Tonight

Organization of the new island senior amateur hockey league will take place tonight at a meeting to be held in the office of the sports editor of the Times, starting at 7.30.

In attendance will be representatives of the Navy, Army, R.C.A.F., Victoria Machinery Depot, and Nanaimo. Members of the three services have been contacted since Sunday's session of the Pacific Coast Amateur Hockey Association in Nanaimo, and all have shown their interest in the new set-up.

Wednesday night in Nanaimo plans were completed for the operation of the up-island club and representatives named to attend tonight's session.

Election of officers to operate the new league will be elected tonight and general plans made for the opening of the season.

Sport Shorts From Britain

LONDON (CP)—He's 40 and not liable for conscription as a married man with four children, but Larrupin Larry Gains is fighting in the Middle East—a bigger fight than any he ever had in the ring.

The Toronto negro, who came to Britain on a cattle boat nearly 20 years ago and left the mark of his iron fists on many a British heavyweight, arrived "over there" recently. A sergeant-major in the Pioneer Corps, he joined up a few hours after war was declared.

Once heavyweight king of the British Empire, Gains never was recognized as British titlist because of a British Boxing Board of Control ruling that "men of color" may not hold a British title, although they can be Empire champions. He lost the Empire crown to Len Harvey many years ago and hasn't done much boxing of late.

The color ruling also applies to Stoker Tommy Martin, Britain's present-day "Brown Bomber" who is attempting to get the bar blasted. Before leaving port as stoker on a merchant ship a few days ago, Tommy issued a challenge to all leading boxers in the heavy and light-heavy classes, including the lightweight champ, Freddie Mills, and appealed to the board against the ban.

Another Canadian in Britain's sport spotlight is Lieut. J. W. (Johnny) Loaring of Windsor, Ont., who's going to make an attempt—conditional on leave—on the British 440-yard hurdles record at a big athletic meeting at Portsmouth. The record of 53 seconds was made four years ago in London by J. Patterson, an American.

Johnny, on loan from the Canadian to the British navy, has been hitting pretty close to that figure in practice training, although he's not quite in the running shape he was in the last Olympics. In the only organized meet in which he has competed this season, he won the two events he entered. He ran an easy 15.8 seconds for the 120-yard hurdles and sped 300 yards in a shade outside 30 seconds.

A bunch of the boys made practice nets from Red Cross parcels string, then played England-Australia cricket "test" matches—in a German prison camp. While Nazi guards who never had seen a cricket match looked on in perplexity from outside the barbed wire, the English side walloped the Aussies two straight games.

Sgt. R. J. Hoyle of the Army Medical Corps told of the "Tests" in a letter home. He said "the barracking was terrific," and that "when I was not bowling they (the Australians) yelled 'put Hoyle on,' and when I was on they cried 'take Hoyle off.' It's all part of the game in Australia."

Victoria Symphony Starts Practices

First full rehearsal of the Victoria Symphony Society this season, under the direction of Melville Knudsen, conductor, welcomes three new members, two of them, graduates of the Curtis Institute of Music, U.S.A. — M. Snyder, and J. Shamlian. The third member is A. Boychuck, oboe player.

Members of the orchestra, which is sponsored by the Victoria Orchestral Symphonic Society, commenced practice on Haydn's Seventh Symphony, known as the "London Symphony", and the "Theme and Variations on Haydn" by Brahms. Both of these works are on the program to be given by the Victoria Symphony at their concert in the late fall.

At present the orchestra is composed of 40 members, seven of whom started their ensemble experience with the Victoria Junior Symphony 12 years ago. Sidney Darvill, first flautist, played with the BBC Orchestra in Belfast, and under the British composer and conductor, Sir Edward Elgar. Mr. Knudsen studied abroad under Felix Weingartner before taking up residence in Victoria.

The working committee directing the activities of the orchestra includes 10 members: President, Lieut. R. H. Hartie; vice-pres., D. V. Kent; secretary, Mrs. M. Graham; finance committee: Miss Sarah Spencer, S. Clack, W. Martin; house manager, W. Hardy; social convener, Mrs. A. C. Burdick; orchestra representative, Mrs. D. V. Kent.

The orchestra plans this year to promote a preparatory group in order to give local musicians an opportunity to play together, and also as a source of new material from which the full-fledged symphony may draw its members.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening in the Sunday school hall, Humboldt and Blanshard. Those who are interested in taking an active part as members of the symphony or the preparatory ensemble are requested to attend these meetings, or contact D. Kent, vice-president, telephone G 8505.

"The main object of the society is to maintain a permanent symphony in Victoria said Mrs. D. V. Kent. "With the generous co-operation received so far from the Musical Arts Society and from the many individual music-lovers who have done so much to enable us to get started, we hope to show our appreciation in the one way we can—by working hard to give a concert that will, in part, reward our supporters by justifying their faith in us, and make the public as a whole proud of its Victoria Symphony."

$50,000 Mill Loss

NANAIMO (CP)—A slash fire which jumped out of control Tuesday night in the Boulder Creek district south of Nanaimo destroyed the $50,000 plant of Eureka Sawmills Limited.

The sawmill, opened last year, had a capacity of 25,000 feet per day and employed about 50 men in the mill and woods. It was engaged largely in cutting for the export trade.

Postwar Plans Need Adult Study

In any post-war rehabilitation plan or program, adult education is not only important but imperative, Dr. E. A. Corbett of Toronto, for 16 years head of the extension department of the University of Alberta, and at present director of the Canadian Association for Adult Education, said in an interview today.

He said that unless the people fully understood the government's post-war program, the programs would lack the kind of co-operation necessary to make it function.

While in Victoria Dr. Corbett, who has spent the last six months organizing speaker groups for the Department of War Services, attended the Canada and Newfoundland Education Association convention. He recently completed a study for the Rockefeller Foundation of economic and sociological conditions in the American great plains region.

Dr. Corbett said community study groups were the most democratic form of education and emphasized the need of group thinking, which, he said, is more effective than individual thought, for the postwar reconstruction period.

REACHES RIGHT PEOPLE
"Canadian adult education," he said, "is now reaching the persons who need it most."

He said 50 per cent of the letters received at the association headquarters asking for information and literature were written on pages torn out of old scribbled books.

"This is one of the most important features of adult education program," he said. Dr. Corbett explained the ultimate end of the adult education association was to perfect local community education groups to such a degree that the motherly association would no longer be necessary.

He said the association co-operated to a large extent with the extension departments of universities and British Columbia was fortunate in having connected with the University of B.C. one of the best, if not the best, extension departments in Canada.

"Universities throughout Canada," he said, "are picking up the idea of adult education. It is really a university responsibility."

20,000 IN GROUPS

He said there were 20,000 persons registered in informal adult study groups in Canada today and the distribution of outlines of study for these groups now was about 250,000. He estimated the study group outlines now reach a public of 500,000.

The association has co-operated with the Carnegie Foundation of New York and in Canada had served as a clearing house for adult education work and as a group for experimentation in adult education techniques.

Dr. Corbett passed lightly over his work with the Department of National War Services, saying his job, that of organizing speaker groups to carry information of Canada's war effort and of national campaigns to small communities throughout the nation, had been completed.

Killing Rumors

MONTREAL (CP)—A "rumor clinic" is in operation in Montreal under the auspices of the Canadian Column.

The column is an organization of business and educational leaders whose expressed purpose is to combat rumors by any means possible. To this end, the column urges Montrealers to track down and explode rumors detrimental to the war effort, using newspaper space and pamphlets in its work.

In addition, it operates its "rumor clinic" in which rumors heard throughout the country are published together with the true facts obtained from competent authorities.

VANCOUVER (CP)—The Vancouver and District Trades and Labor Council has been advised by the National Joint Conference Board of the Construction Industry that any trade union which had established a competent employment service of its own members on or before Sept. 1 can send men out to jobs without having them apply to Selective Service officers for employment permits. A letter to the labor council from A. J. Crawford and E. Ingles, members of the conference board's executive committee, stated they had received this ruling from Elliott M. Little, director of Selective Services. The letter was read before a labor council meeting here Tuesday night.

Jap Girls Work For Lillooet Chinese

LILLOOET, B.C. (CP)—Japanese girls from a colony established at Lillooet by the B.C. Security Commission are being employed by Chinese tomato growers here as pickers.

Jo Long, operator of the historic Fountain Ranch while its owner, Lieut. John Walker, is serving in the armed services, was forced to employ the Japanese pickers when he was unable to obtain either white or Indian help.

Yat Poy, another Chinese tomato grower, also hired Japanese pickers, paying them 6c per box, the same wage rate as paid to Indian pickers formerly.

The Japanese picked so fast the first day that Yat Poy halted picking to discuss wages. But the Japanese refused to negotiate and returned to their homes.

'Bridge River Mother' Dies at Ranch Home

GOLDBRIDGE, B.C. (CP)—Funeral service was held here Wednesday for Mrs. Marion Netherby White, often called "the mother of the Bridge River country," because of her willingness to go to the assistance of any neighbor in distress, white or Indian. She died at her ranch home at nearby Tyaughton.

Mrs. White was born near Hamilton, Ont., of an old Upper Canada family and moved to Victoria in the early 80's. She came to the Bridge River district more than 30 years ago when she was married to Grant White, a rancher and prospector.

Old-time prospectors were pallbearers at the funeral.

Besides her husband, she leaves a son, Warren Walter White of Bralorne, and a sister, Mrs. Jim Stables of Vancouver.

MINING APPEAL BEFORE COURT

Aage Falleson's appeal against a judgment of Mr. Justice Ellis supporting an injunction sought by the Spruce Creek Mining Co. Ltd., excluding the appellant from holdings of the company, formerly leased to the appellant, opened before the Court of Appeal today.

The action concerns certain mining properties in northern B.C. Appellant secured an agreement whereby he would work certain properties and would be supplied with a diesel pump to keep the shaft clear of water. The diesel was to be used jointly by both parties, the respondent using it on a shaft upstream when conditions prevented mining lower down the creek.

After joint use by both parties, A. M. Whiteside, K.C., counsel for the appellant contended, the machine broke down. Appellant made arrangements to have it repaired, but difficulties of securing supply and inadequate attention to it caused its loss of use by both parties.

Respondent claimed the appellant's lease was terminated through breach of covenant and action followed.

Falleson now appeals the result of that court action.

Dugald Donaghy, K.C., appears for the respondent, with G. V. Cowan.

New Justice Welcomed Here

Mr. Justice J. M. Coady, recently appointed to the B.C. Supreme Court, was welcomed here today on his first appearance as a judge of that court in the city.

W. C. Moresby, K.C., extended congratulations on behalf of the city legal fraternity and the bench.

In reply, Mr. Justice Coady stated he approached his job with great humility but hoped he would be able to carry on the high traditions of the B.C. bench.

After sitting in chambers, he presided over a contested divorce trial on his first day here.

King, S. J. D. Clack, Philip Fleming, and Dr. D. M. Baillie. Sir Robert Holland addressed the gathering.

Results of the recent law examinations of the Institute of Chartered Accountants of British Columbia have been announced. In the final examinations three candidates were successful, first place being attained by M. J. Walton; second by G. W. Carlisle, and third by F. J. Villamy. In the intermediate examinations two candidates were successful, J. M. Ross being first, and J. C. Moore second.

CBC Off Air Earlier

OTTAWA (CP) — Canadian Broadcasting Corporation network works will sign off the air at 11:30 p.m. local time in all regions beginning Sunday, Sept. 27, to reduce wear on equipment. It was announced today by Gladstone Murray, general manager of the CBC.

Mr. Murray announced such a reduction of broadcast operations in each time zone across the Dominion would lengthen the life of a large amount of equipment, some of which cannot be replaced.

Stations affected include CBR, Vancouver and CBK, Watrous, Sask.

Australia's Losses

CANBERRA (CP) — Australian war losses include 28,251 missing in action or captured by the enemy, Army Minister Francis Forde announced today.

Indians Urge Release Of Congress Leaders

NEW DELHI (CP-Reuters) — A desire to resist the Japanese in all possible ways was expressed today by Indian opposition members of the Legislative Assembly when the debate on the Indian situation was resumed.

They urged, however, that India be given a large share in the government. They declared the sympathy of the people must be enlisted to make resistance effective and several speakers advocated the release of Congress Party leaders to re-establish confidence.

NEW DELHI (CP) — Japanese river craft and the waterfront at Mandalay were attacked by British bombers, Wednesday, for the second time in three days, an R.A.F. communique announced today.

"Bombs fell in the quay area and a direct hit was scored on a barge," the communique said. "The result of other attacks on steamers and barges was not observed."

All the raiding planes returned safely, as they did from an earlier attack on the Irrawaddy River waterfronts of Mandalay on Monday.

Wins Commission

Arthur John Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown, 1404 Morrison Street, last week graduated first in his class at No. 8 Air Observers' School, Ancient Lorient, Quebec, received his wings, and a commission as pilot officer.

Rotarians See Agencies' Work

Victoria Rotarians had a new appreciation for the social service work financed by the Community Chest today following the showing of a film at their luncheon in the Empress Hotel displaying the agencies in operation.

Carrying a direct appeal through an artistic medium, the picture took the clubmen on a tour of the city to watch the different groups in action.

Starting with the call of the canvasser on the housewife to solicit a donation for the chest, it presented visual proof of the need for generous support.

Shots depicting the Family Welfare Association showed soldiers and soldiers' dependents calling on the agency to secure help for their particular problems. In turn it showed cases attended by the John Howard Society, the Social Service Index at work, in detail, the assistance given by the Victorian Order of Nurses both in their educational field and in actual treatments.

CARE FOR CHILDREN

Particularly appealing were the views of the well-baby clinic where infants and preschool receive physical checks.

Reception of children at foster homes, and care of the babies of unmarried mothers were outlined in the section devoted to the Children's Aid Society.

The St. John Ambulance Association provided another support work done through Chest financial aid.

Transportation of a stretcher-borne patient from an outlying lighthouse to the Garden Bay Hospital on Pender Island by the Columbia Coast Mission hospital ship indicated the service of that organization.

The constructive work of the auxiliary to St. Joseph's Hospital was illustrated in another section.

CHARACTER BUILDING

In the character building field, the film gave prominence to the Rainbow Sea Cadets, the Boy Scouts, the Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. with its various services, including the Travelers' Aid.

As a finale it portrayed the health-giving aspects of Sunshine Camp for underprivileged mothers and children as well as for the blind.

Mrs. Frances Barr carried a running narration to explain the different sections and describe the work which was excellently portrayed in the color film taken by Douglas Flintoff.

Preceding the showing, F. E. Winslow, president of the Community Chest, told the Rotarians present war conditions and their attendant problems made the need for continuation of the different agencies greater than ever. The objective set for Victoria, he said, had been raised to $80,000 this year with inclusion of the Salvation Army's home service departments.

Hurt in Collision

Leonard Westby, R.R. 3, 20, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital in police patrol suffering from minor injuries received when the bicycle he was riding and a car driven by Mrs. J. Goldie, Snowdrop Avenue, collided at Quadra and Hillside at 1:30 this afternoon.

According to police reports, Mrs. Goldie was traveling south on Quadra. As a result of the collision, her car ran across the sidewalk and was halted just in front of the Hillside Pharmacy. Westby, attended to by Dr. Vincent Smith, suffered minor cuts and shock.

Postwar China To Need Doctors

BELLEVEILLE, Ont. (CP) — General Council of the United Church of Canada has recommended an appeal be made immediately for young doctors and nurses now in the army to volunteer for medical service in China after the war in view of the great task of rehabilitation which will develop there.

The motion, proposed by the committee on foreign missions, at Wednesday's session, said the appeal was necessary in order to have candidates ready for service at that time.

The council rejected a proposal to extend the retirement age limit for ministers to 70 years for the duration due to the scarcity of ministers, and instead extended the retirement age from 65 to 68 years.

J. Rycraft of Winnipeg deplored the "beggarly salaries" paid ministers in small western charges, and urged clergy never to hesitate to inform their laymen of this situation and to "wake up and go to your congregations."

Canada Protests Vichy Jew Deportation

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian government has protested to Vichy against deportation back to Germany of Jewish refugees rounded up in unoccupied France, a spokesman for the external affairs department announced at a press conference today.

The Canadian representation was made through the Vichy legation in Ottawa. It expressed the grave concern of the Canadian government over reports that Jewish refugees were being sent to concentration camps in unoccupied France for the purpose of being deported to countries under German control.

The French Minister to Canada, Rene Ristelhueber, was asked to convey this representation to the Vichy government.

"We can hardly credit here reports that the French government would return to Germany refugees of German oppression," stated the note to the French minister. It asked him to express the strong hope of the Canadian government that no actual deportation would take place and that those placed in concentration camps for deportation should be released as soon as possible.

Canada's representation was in line with similar protests made by the United States and by the Pope through the papal nuncio at Vichy.

ALL SINCE 1933

The information in the hands of the external affairs department is in line with that given in press reports—that a considerable round-up of Jewish refugees is being carried out under instructions of the Vichy government. At first the round-up applied to Jewish people who had entered France to escape Hitler persecution after 1935, but the move since has been extended to cover refugees who came to France any time after 1933.

According to press reports and information to the department, these round-ups have been varied out with a great deal of cruelty, including the breaking up of families.

It is understood some of these refugees wished to come to Canada and the United States, but that the Vichy government has refused exit visas to enable them to do so, even if they were able to get passage on trans-Atlantic ships—which is doubtful.

Blew Up Gas Depot At Wilhelmshaven

LONDON (CP)—Mystery surrounding a terrific explosion from the ground during the recent air raid on Wilhelmshaven was cleared up today when it was announced the blast was attributed to the bombing of a large gasoline depot by a seven-man Lancaster crew which included four Canadians.

The Canadians were Flt. Sgt. Fred Kruger of Bede, Man.; Lt. Sgt. Daniel Robertson of Cornwall, Ont.; Sgt. Gnr. Charles Trudell of Whidour, Ont., and Sgt. Air Gunner Lorne Thompson of Toronto.

The blast lit up everything for miles around.

For days after the raid crews who participated talked of nothing but the colossal, blinding flash that made aircraft stand out in the sky momentarily as they would in sunlight. British newspapers speculated on the nature of the blast.

"I have never seen anything like the explosion," Thompson said. "Instead of the localized flash of a bomb going off, we were shaken to the core. Even at our height it lit up the interior of the aircraft like a photographer's floodlight."

Missing Dieppe Men Reported Prisoners

SUMMERLAND, B.C. (CP)—Sgt. Alfred Stanley Wagstaff and Sgt. Norman Rupert Thompson, both reported missing in a Canadian (Active) army list of Dieppe casualties, are prisoners of war, a comrade has advised Sgt. Thompson's mother.

James Hale, another Summerland soldier in the same unit as the missing men, wrote Mrs. M. K. Thompson that "Norman Thompson and Alfred Wagstaff are both all right. They are prisoners. We just got the news today."

Fishing Stopped; Resumes Monday

VANCOUVER (CP) — Purse seine and gillnet fishing on the Fraser River and Gulf of Georgia closed at midnight last night on orders from Maj. J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries, and will not reopen again until 8 Monday morning. The closure order was made to allow canneries to pack the heavy catches of sockeye salmon that have been taken during the past few days, and also to allow the "Shuswap" run to pass up the Fraser to the spawning grounds.

Labor Congress Wants 2nd Front

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Congress of Labor today called for "the speediest opening of a second front."

The resolution was approved unanimously. Delegates said they considered an immediate second front essential to victory.

Hon. Frank Langstone, New Zealand High Commissioner, in addressing the convention urged that workers put an all-out war effort in first place but at the same time protect the rights and principles gained in past years.

While workers in Canada, as in New Zealand, had political equality, they could not enjoy complete social justice without economic security.

Russian Consulate Closed in Bulgaria

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts, AP)—A Trans-ocean (German news agency) correspondent reported from Sofia today that the Russian consulate at Varna, Bulgarian Black Sea port, had been closed by Bulgarian authorities after police raiders found "compromising material" such as data on military installations.

The Russian minister in Sofia protested to the Bulgarian foreign office against closing of the consulate, the correspondent said. (Bulgaria, although a junior partner of the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo Axis in the war against Britain and the United States, has not declared war against Russia.)

Body Found in Cabin

CRESTON, B.C. (CP)—British Columbia police reported today an aged trapper, Edward Jordan, had been found dead in his cabin 19 miles from this town. Officers said a .22 calibre pistol was found beside the body. They believed the man had been dead about three weeks.

Rent Administrators Given Wide Powers

OTTAWA (CP)—A new type of rentals committee whose members will personally investigate housing accommodation and determine rents was indicated today following a Wartime Prices and Trade Board order issued Wednesday.

The order, published in the Canada Gazette, empowers a rentals administrator to "appoint any person or persons as a committee to function in such areas and with such powers as the administrator may designate."

Under provisions of previous orders the rentals committees throughout Canada, in addition to those existing when present rental regulations were set up at the end of last year, usually consisted of a county judge and, in Quebec, of judges and magistrates specially appointed.

It was learned that the new type of committee will probably simplify procedure in areas where housing difficulties exist by inspecting housing and room accommodation and making rental determinations.

The new order also gives the rental administrators, Owen Lobley and C. R. DeMara wider authority to fix maximum rentals and prescribe the grounds upon which rents may be varied.

Under the auspices of the St. John Ambulance Brigade an illustrated lecture on first aid will be given by Dr. J. A. B. Hall in the upstairs room of the Market Building, Thursday, at 8, open to all who are interested in first aid.

Brawl Puts New Life in Dodgers

(By HUGH FULLERTON)

NEW YORK (AP)—Instead of fanning those unruly spectators, maybe Brooklyn should give 'em a vote of thanks... the Dodgers hadn't shown as much fight in weeks as they did in that pre-game brawl Wednesday, and did you notice how they started hitting right afterward?

If they can't stay mad now, they may still beat out the St. Louis Cards... Dixie Walker only got credit for four hits, but that wasn't a bunt he hung on that fan's jaw... Looks as if the Phils are the real beneficiaries of the close race. They drew 26,874 for the Cards series and cut in on five games at Ebbets Field, including a Sunday doubleheader, as well as two home games against Brooklyn... Ordinarily at this stage they'd have about 300 fans rattling around in the park.

Washington Redskins have a club rule that players who eat in railroad diners have to leave a 25 cent tip each time—which makes them popular with waiters who have fed big league baseballers.

ROSEMARY DE CAMP comes to the rescue of Sabu in this dramatic scene in Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Book," the new Alexander Korda production in Technicolor, coming today to the York Theatre.

"WINGS FOR EAGLE" OPENS TOMORROW

It has often been said the story behind the men who make our planes is one packed with as much drama as the story of the men who fly them. With this in mind Warner Bros. have put two of its top notch performers, Ann Sheridan and Dennis Morgan, in its latest thrilling production, "Wings for the Eagle," which makes its debut at the Dominion Theatre tomorrow.

The film is set in the vast Lockheed aviation plant during the period shortly before Pearl Harbor and the hectic days that followed the infamous attack. Corky Jones, played by Dennis Morgan, a cocky young fellow, gets a job at Lockheed, primarily to be in "essential defence work" and to escape the draft. His friend, Brad Maple, played by the inimitable Jack Carson, is studying to get an engineering job at the plant. He is married to Roma (Ann Sheridan's part), an extremely good-looking girl, whose beauty is only too well appreciated by Corky.

SHOW HELD OVER AT OAK BAY

Greer Garson is the heroine of Jane Austen's delightful romantic comedy, "Pride and Prejudice," in which the lovely English actress co-stars with Laurence Olivier in a madcap romance of a lady who stoops to conquer in a race for the most eligible bachelor in town. The picture, which is being held over at the Oak Bay Theatre, has a brilliant supporting cast.

'We Were Dancing' Showing at Cadet

Norma Shearer and Melvyn Douglas play the type of guests who are asked for a week-end and stay a month in M.G.M.'s new romantic comedy, "We Were Dancing," showing today on the Cadet screen. But if you have the looks and charm of this couple, you can get away with it, as they do—for awhile!

PLAZA THEATRE

"Eagle Squadron," a stirring modern melodrama and the screen's first authentic story of fighter pilots in the Royal Air Force, is now showing at the Plaza Theatre. Quentin Reynolds, well-known newsman, gives an impressive introduction to the film, illustrating his remarks with pictures of actual members of the Eagle Squadron.

SABU STARRED IN 'JUNGLE BOOK'

After months of painstaking preparation and research, Alexander Korda has transferred to the screen the thrilling adventure classic, Rudyard Kipling's "Jungle Book," which was filmed in magnificent Technicolor and stars Sabu in the role of Mowgli, a creature that is half-boy and half-wolf. Kipling's "Jungle Book" was directed by Zoltan Korda and is currently at the York Theatre through United Artists' release.

Korda budgeted his massive Technicolor picture at more than $1,000,000. Props alone for Kipling's "Jungle Book" cost $60,000, while items used to embellish the film account of the exploits of the young boy who was raised by jungle wild animals and returned to his native village after 12 years to learn again the ways of man, were valued at $150,000.

The background of Kipling's "Jungle Book" is picturesque northern India.

ATLAS THEATRE

A bizarre masquerade marks a drama as unusual as it is gripping in "Nazi Agent," which brings Conrad Veidt, delineator of many strange characters, to the Atlas Theatre in a dual role in which he plays two brothers, one sinister, one benevolent. Veidt plays Baron von Detmer, ruthless commander of a sabotage, and also his brother Otto, a kindly, scholarly stamp and book collector.

CAPITOL THEATRE

There has never before been a picture like "The Birth of a Baby," which is now being shown at the Capitol Theatre. The usual critical vocabulary is useless in discussing the film; for the film itself is more than just a movie. It is truth; vital, exciting, clean and unashamed truth.

Filed under the guidance of the American Committee on Maternal Welfare, "The Birth of a Baby" is simply what the title implies—a film showing the processes involved in having a baby. The picture, however, is not a dry affair of charts and lectures, but a pleasantly woven story that builds up interest from the moment it begins to the terrific climax of the sequences showing the actual birth of the baby.

U.S. Turns Over Ship to Norway

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Roosevelt turned over a new submarine chaser to the Norwegian navy Wednesday and Crown Princess Martha accepted it as a symbol of the United States vast war production which means, she said, that "we cannot fail."

The ceremony transferring the grey, 173-foot ship was held at the Washington navy yard. The President and Norwegian Crown Princess heard the national anthems of their two countries, and saw the U.S. flag hauled down and the Norwegian flag raised, while the old and new crews stood at attention.

Speaking from an automobile, Mr. Roosevelt praised Norway's democratic ideals, fighting spirit and contributing of vital sea forces to the United Nations' cause.

"The combination of treachery and brute force which conquered Norway," he said, "will live in history as the blackest deed of a black era. Norway fought valiantly with what few weapons there were at hand—and fell."

"And with Norway fell the concept that higher remoteness from political controversy or usefulness to mankind could give any nation immunity from attack in a world where aggression spread unchecked."

Reporter Finds Time Wasted at Shipyards

SEATTLE (AP)—The Seattle Times published a story by Don Magnuson, a reporter assigned to obtain employment in a Seattle shipbuilding plant, in which Magnuson said he found an "enormous excess of manpower" there.

Magnuson worked at the Seattle-Tacoma Shipbuilding Corporation for two weeks as a ship-fitter's helper on the swing shift, the Times said.

"During my time in the yard, never did I put in an honest day's work," Magnuson wrote. "I do not think I averaged one hour of labor for each shift of 7½ hours."

"It is true that in any undertaking of such magnitude, involving the use of thousands of men, there is sure to be a certain amount of wasted labor. But I have worked at many jobs . . . and never have I seen any other where men could draw high wages for standing for hours on end, doing nothing."

The Tanks Are Coming—In This

The biggest warship ever launched on inland waterways, this monster tank-landing ship slid into the Ohio River in a Labor Day launching at Neville Island, Pa. It is the first of many similar ships now under construction, which are described by navy officials as magnified versions of the boats that landed U.S. Marine Corps tanks in the Solomon Islands attack.

'Tojo Cigar' At Mare Island

MARE ISLAND, CALIF. (AP)—Arrival of one of the "Tojo Cigar" submarines captured Dec. 7 in the assault on Pearl Harbor was announced at the Mare Island Navy yard Wednesday.

The two-man Jap submarine, brought here on the deck of a United States merchant vessel, was already well picked apart by navy technicians eager to determine what made it go.

"They just shoved those Japs inside with the idea they weren't coming out again," said one visitor who had to hunch his shoulders to squeeze through the conning tower.

The navy, in announcing the arrival of the strange craft, also stated that its construction and equipment indicated it was "truly a suicide detail."

Boys in Shipyards Organize Union

VANCOUVER (CP)—Passer-boys in four Vancouver shipyards have formed their own union as a branch of the Boilermakers' and Iron Shipbuilders' Union, following three "quickie" sit-down strikes staged here during the past week-end in an effort to obtain wage increases from 45 to 60 cents an hour.

Officials of the boys' union, believed to be the only union of its kind in Canada, were elected at a meeting last night.

Full Admiral Now

LONDON — Vice-Admiral Sir Geoffrey Layton, commander-in-chief of all British forces in Ceylon, was promoted Tuesday to admiral.

Rear-Admiral John Henry Godfrey was advanced to vice-admiral.

Admiral Layton, earlier in the war, passed through Victoria on his way to the Orient to reorganize the British Far Eastern naval forces.

SEINING AREA AGAIN CLOSED

VANCOUVER (CP)—A flood of sockeye salmon pouring into canneries from the Fraser River and Strait of Georgia has resulted in the gulf seining area being closed for a second time since the start of this year's big run.

Maj. J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries, said late Tuesday that purse seining in the strait would be closed from midnight Tuesday night until 8 a.m. Thursday. A similar closure was ordered about a week ago.

Tuesday's order came as gillnet fishermen operating along a 30-mile stretch of the Fraser River, from the mouth of the stream as far inland as Port Hammond, B.C., continued to land catches of as many as 300 or 400 sockeye.

However, purse seiners reported small catches following a good day Monday when the 100 vessels in the fleet took about 150,000 fish from the seining area off the mouth of the river.

Some ope-man gillnet boats landed as high as 1,000 fish at Fraser River canneries Monday. The high boat at Hammond was reported to have taken 1,180 sockeye in 20 hours.

Maj. Motherwell said the fish were getting up the river in good quantities and that his department was "assured" that lots of fish are getting into the safety zone above Hammond.

Canberra Heroism

SYDNEY (AP)—Stories of heroism during the last moments of the sinking Australian cruiser Canberra, lost in the Solomons Island fighting, came today from wounded survivors of that craft who were landed at an Australian port.

Officers of the cruiser had to order back men who wanted to enter the engine-room and search amid the darkness and escaping steam for other men believed trapped there.

C.P.O. John Kelly of Sydney said he was trying to fire a torpedo at an enemy cruiser, only 2,000 yards away, when shrapnel hit him in both legs, disabling him.

All the rescued men paid warm tribute to the crews of United States destroyers who picked them up and cared for them until they reached port.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the lighted beacon on Noble Island, Christie Pass, B.C. is reported not burning.

Bate Island light, Lasqueti, is also reported not burning. These lights will be attended at the earliest opportunity, the department announces.

Heavy Sockeye Run Reflected in Pack

VANCOUVER (CP)—The heavy run of sockeye salmon in the Fraser River and the Gulf of Georgia is reflected in the weekly salmon pack bulletin issued here today by Maj. J. A. Motherwell, chief supervisor of fisheries.

The bulletin shows that 471,454 cases of sockeye were packed this year, up to and including Sept. 12, compared with 449,962 cases during the corresponding period of 1941. The figure for the cycle year 1938 was 417,009 cases.

The total pack of all species of salmon to date this season was 1,011,355 cases, compared with a total pack of 1,280,981 cases at the same date last year.

Following are the totals for different species with last year's figures in brackets:

Sockeye 16,480 (23,698); steelheads 3,480 (2,920); bluebacks 22,913 (29,741); coho 133,065 (264,182); pinkies 262,703 (369,821); chums 101,259 (140,657).

Captain Saved Negro

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Capt. Elliott Buckmaster, commanding the United States aircraft carrier Yorktown, risked his life to save a negro mess attendant when the craft sank after a beating from Japanese bombs and torpedoes in the Battle of Midway last June.

This and other tales of magnificent conduct were told Wednesday by survivors.

The 53-year-old commander of the carrier took the mess attendant, "who was in distress," from a crowded life raft and swam with him in tow to a whaleboat. He placed the negro in the only available space in the whaleboat, ordered the coxswain to make for the nearest destroyer and then swam back to the raft.

Shipyard Accidents

Survey of the past three years' fatalities in British Columbia's steel shipyards at Vancouver, Victoria and Prince Rupert shows 15 fatalities out of a payroll now exceeding 25,000 persons.

E. S. H. Winn, K.C., head of the Workmen's Compensation Board, is authority for the statement.

Lesser accidents are numerous, and this can be charged to a great extent to inexperienced employees.

Coal Mining Inquiry

NANAIMO — Sittings of the McBride commission inquiring into wages and operating costs in Nanaimo and Cumberland mines were resumed today.

John Stokluk, vice-president of the United Mine Workers of America local representing Vancouver Island miners, Wednesday presented a written union brief and there was a general discussion of the whole situation from the standpoint of the coal miners.

Others taking part in the discussion were: Edward Boyd, district representative; D. Radford, president, Nanaimo local; William Bowater, vice-president, Nanaimo local; James Forsythe, recording secretary, Nanaimo local; Percy Lawson, secretary, Nanaimo local; J. H. Cameron, president, Cumberland local; H. L. Bates, vice-president, Cumberland local; and John Bond, secretary, Cumberland local.

A further meeting was held Wednesday afternoon with representatives of both the U.M.W. of A. and the Canadian Collieries (Dumfries) Ltd. present.

Canadian Collieries officials attending are: H. R. Plummer, general manager; H. Baird, superintendent; R. K. Smart, assistant superintendent; and P. S. Feenan, controller.

The commission is composed of Prof. W. G. McBride of McGill University, Montreal; Dr. D. W. Gray, Sydney, Cape Breton; and Arthur L. Smith, K.G., Calgary, Alta.

In the eighteenth century, any rock, mineral, or other material dug from the earth was called a fossil.

New York Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued its penny scramble today as low-price issues generally dominated the ticker tape, while leaders shifted indifferently over a narrow range.

As a group, rails did fairly well after a hesitant start. Small fractional advances were well distributed in the final hour, although minor declines were plentiful and numerous stocks were unchanged. The day's total was around 400,000 shares.

Buying predicated on individual situations provided the main bulk for the list. Bullish forces, on the whole, still leaned toward conservatism pending settlement of anti-inflation and tax questions, and the appearance of more impressive war bulletins.

In the stock division new tops for the year or longer were posted for American and Foreign Power common and second preferred.

In front the greater part of the day were Santa Fe, N.Y. Central, Union Pacific, Southern Railway, Great Northern, U.S. Steel, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Johns-Manville and Western Union.

Hiram Walkers, up ¼, registered the only change among Canadian stocks.

Among occasional losers were Bethlehem Steel, American Telephone, Texas Co., Anaconda, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, General Electric, Consolidated Edison and Public Service of N.J.

Dorothy Dix:

Depriving Child of Father's Influence is Called Unjust

Why is it that we hear so much about mothers' influence and so little about fathers'? Reams are written about mothers' sacred influence. A mammy song is a cure tear-jerker in any night-club. Mother is credited with being the potter who forms the character of every man and woman who makes good in the world; but father is rarely mentioned as being of any importance in the family circle. Apparently, except for biological reasons and as a badge of respectability and for paying bills, children might as well not have fathers.

This is a point of view with which the majority of mothers heartily agree, and so sure are they that they know better how to rear their children than their fathers do and that only their influence counts, that they refuse to let their husbands have any way so whatever in the upbringing of their offspring.

Rare, indeed, is the woman who realizes that her husband loves their children just as much as she does and is as anxious for their well-being, and may have a few ideas about child culture that are worth consideration.

On the contrary the average woman, who believes the birth of a child miraculously turns her into a female Solomon, pooh-poohs her husband's every suggestion about rearing the infant. That's her job and she makes a monopoly of it. She forms its tastes, habits, manners and morals, and from the time Junior is born until he casts his first vote he is exclusively mother's product. Her stamp is on him from head to foot; but father has had no part in making him what he is.

SHUTTING OUT FATHER IS WRONG

Now in shutting their fathers out from their children's lives and depriving the children of their fathers' influence, women do a great wrong to all, for it deprives the father of the reward that is justly his. He has spent years of toil and sacrifice in bringing up and educating his sons and daughters. And if, in the end, they have been spoiled by a weak and foolish mother, or if he cannot glory in them as his handiwork, then his labor has been in vain. He is merely the "old man" who has signed the checks.

It's a great injustice to the children to deprive them of a father's influence because God knew what He was about when He ordained that they should have both a mother and a father. Neither one alone suffices. It takes the two of them working together to bring up a child in the way he or she should go. The most loving father cannot give his children the cuddling, the patience, the understanding that a mother can. The strongest woman cannot give her children the sense of authority, nor the discipline, nor know how to handle them as a father would.

That's the great and unarguable argument against divorce. It robs children of their birthright to have both a father and a mother. It makes them poor little half-orphans. It takes away from them during their formative years the influences they need to develop them into fine men and women.

THEY OUTGROW MOTHER

No matter how much children love their mother there comes a time when they feel they have outgrown her and when they laugh at her opinions and flout her authority. Later on, when they have acquired wisdom, they may look back upon her as a seer and saint, but for the time being they regard her as only a woman who knows nothing of the modern world and whose ideas belong to a prehistoric age. So when mother tries to talk to them about about the temptations of life and to warn them about the pitfalls they are likely to stumble in, they laugh at her. "Poor mother!" they think patronizingly. "Fancy her trying to tell us anything."

But when father speaks they listen because father is a man. He has spent his life in the open. He knows the world. He has seen the show from the inside. He knows the ropes. When he warns Bob against the dangers of drink and the lures of painted women he knows what he is talking about. When he tells Marybelle what petting parties may lead to he scares her off because he is not quoting from a goody-goody book; he is talking from experience. So when you find a boy and girl who are under their father's influence, you are pretty apt to find wise youngsters who watch their step.

Fathers are not supposed to have the influence over their daughters that their mothers have, but when they do have, it is greater. A father can do far more to keep a girl to the line than a mother can because he can tell her what men think of girls who are not particular about their conduct or their dates. He can do more than her mother can to keep Marybelle from making a foolish marriage because he can show her just what sort of a cad the lad is she thinks she is in love with. And he can do more than anyone else to broaden her mind. I have never known a catty woman who had been pals with her father.

Escalator Can Elevate 8,000 Persons in One Hour

One day, during a Christmas shopping period, I was aboard an elevator on the ground floor of a department store. The elevator man was about to close the gate but a small boy, perhaps six years of age, was waiting there.

"Do you want to get on?" asked the elevator man.

Instead of replying "Yes" or "No," the boy answered by asking another question:

"Does it cost anything?"

When the lad was assured that there was no charge, he stepped inside. Probably that was the first elevator ride he ever had had.

For most of us, elevators are common things. Some persons board them a dozen times a day.

Escalators are not nearly so common. Some large department stores have them, and they are found elsewhere in certain cities, but there are hundreds of elevators in the world for each escalator.

The escalator "elevates" people. It takes them from one level to a higher level, and they need not take any steps while going upward. Like the elevator, it does not cost anything.

The name "escalator" grew out of Latin words, and the meaning may be given as "climbing ladder." There is no ladder about it, however. It is a moving stairway, and sometimes has steps, which look like common steps.

In other cases the "steps" are cleats, or treads, which keep a slanting position while a person is rising. At the top the cleats pass between teeth in a large metal comb. If a person forgets to take a step when he reaches the upper landing, he may feel a slight jolt, but does not get hurt.

A good speed for an escalator is 100 feet per minute. Moving on the usual slant, this speed will take a person to a height of 50 feet in a minute, provided he does not walk on the way up. If he walks while the machine moves, he may reach the landing in three-fourths of a minute or less.

Chains and wheels, plus electric power, make the stairway move. Half of the steps are mov-

Saving Stamps for Birthday

Little Sandra Sturdy, daughter of Dr. J. M. Sturdy, has just passed her eighth birthday. It was a big event in her young life, for there was a birthday cake, candles and presents. Just the sort of birthday that every little girl dreams of—except, perhaps, that the presents were different. You see, they were all in War Savings Stamps and that is just as Sandra wanted it. In fact, it was her own idea. Here's the story:

Sandra is a pupil at Norfolk House School and during the last term there was a big campaign amongst the girls to promote the sale of War Savings Stamps. Sandra heard the older pupils

HE SHOOTS 1½ MILES OF WIRE IN FOUR MINUTES

Why can't we supply telephone service to everyone who wants it these days? Here's one reason why. A machine gun shoots the equivalent of 1½ miles of copper wire in four minutes. Modern war requires huge quantities of copper and other materials which are used in the telephone business. There isn't enough to go around, and as the armed forces come first, our business must forego adding materially to its lines and equipment until after the war.
